State Balks At Children's Home Plans

Urges County to Keep Present Building; Welfare Council Asked

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of stories dealing with the report of the State Welfare department on Richland county's child welfare program.)

* * *

Keep the Richland county Children's home on its present site but expand and modernize it.

Reduce the home population one-third by placing children of pre-school age in foster homes.

Create a community welfare council to coordinate the work of county agencies on behalf of children.

These were recommendations submitted to the county commissioners and County Child Welfare board yesterday by the State Welfare department following a two-month survey of child care activities in the county.

The County Child Welfare board previously had proposed that the Children's home be moved outside the city on a larger site. The present building on Hedges is 80 years old and has been described as out-of-date and overcrowded.

The state report, in recommending a community welfare council, said "there is a lack of cooperation and understanding among the many agencies serving children in Richland county."

It added that the agencies spend a great deal of time trying to determine which agency should take care of which case. Meanwhile, the applicants are frequently stranded without service.

The board should relate its work to the work of other agencies serving children in the county, the report said. "Without such coordinatel effort the board's funds will be wasted in duplications of work, and some necessary services will be totally lacking."

The report said that Richland county can secure a greater return on the tax dollar by increasing expenditures for service than by building a new children's home.

The state group said the present home is accessible to many community resources needed by both the children and staff members.

Concerning financing, the report said expenditures for child welfare have not kept pace with the community's needs. It says that to provide even the minimum needs will require spending a greater share of the tax dollar.

"The fact that financing has not been more adequate is due to the Child Welfare board's failure to determine needs, to formulate plans for a program designed to meet them, and to request the necessary funds on the basis of known needs."

It added that additional funds will be needed for the staff, more varied and flexible services, extension of care and improvement of the home building.

The availability of funds must be determined by the community and its officials, the report said, but adds that "it seems reasonable to conclude that Richland county can provide the funds to meet services required for dependent and neglected children."

The report said the Child Welfare board has not accepted the full responsibilities accorded it by the County Children's Service act. The board has not been guided by modern principles of child care, and therefore, the report added, the board has been unable to develop a broad program as intended and specified in the law.

RAPS WELFARE BOARD

It said the Child Welfare board, created in January, 1946, has done little more than its predecessor, the board of trustees of the children's home. The report said the board has tried to function with a staff limited in number and qualifications

"The board's drastic reduction of the administration and case work staff during 1947 placed further restrictions on its capacity to carry out its responsibilities." The report called for

Doctors Ask $500 Each

The two psychiatrists who examined Robert Murl Daniels, convicted murderer, have presented bills to Richland county, asking $500 each for their services, Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch said today. The judge said he had not yet taken any action on the statements.

The two psychiatrists, Dr. J F. Bateman, superintendent of the Columbus State hospital, and Dr. R. E. Bushong, superintendent of the Lima State hospital, found Daniels sane both at the time of the crime and at the time of the examinations.

Both were appointed by the court and testified during the trial when they presented their findings.

Daniels was found guilty of the murder of three members of the John E. Niebel family and was sentenced to die in the electric chair on Jan. 3 by a three-judge court. He had pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity.

Beer Bottles Form Platform

A conscientious and indignant Mansfielder reported to The News-Journal this morning that he saw a city department truck loading beer at a distributing center.

The sharp-eyed citizen, however, failed to notice that the cardboard cases contained empty bottles.

An investigation revealed that the cases were being taken to the Mansfield-Leland hotel to provide a base for a speakers' platform during sessions of the Ohio Waterworks association now in convention at the hotel.

Dying Vet Unaware of Army Pardon

CHICAGO —(INS)— A 23-year-old army veteran was unaware today that his Ashtabula, Ohio, parents had won a two-year fight to clear his name and wipe out a dishonorable discharge from the service.

The former soldier, Fred Caruso, lay in a coma in the Illinois Neuropsychiatric hospital in Chicago. He is now deaf and blind from a malignane brain tumor.

Doctors held little hope for his recovery. They said it would be merciful if he never regained consciousness.

The army review board in Washington gave Caruso a full pardon yesterday and erased a prison sentence from his record. The action followed an earlier state pardon granted by Illinois Gov. Dwight H. Green.

Caruso had been convicted of burglary in Peoria, Ill., in 1946, while still in service. The army discharged him without honor after he was sentenced to Stateville prison at Joliet, Ill.

The man's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Caruso of Ashtabula, O., could not believe their son was responsible for his actions and began the battle which won a pardon for him.

Thieves Steal Steel Bridge Beams

CHILLICOTHE, Mo. —(AP)— A Livingston county 30-foot steel bridge has been stolen.

John Slattery, county highway engineer, said the thieves ripped off the bridge flooring, tossed it into the stream, then used a cutting torch to dismantle the steel beams.

2 Crestline Men Die In Wreck

Train Hits Rock Near Pittsburgh

12 Passengers Injured

Two Crestline trainmen were killed and 12 passengers were injured yesterday afternoon when the Fort Pitt, Pennsylvania railroad Pittsburgh-to-Chicago train, crashed into a huge boulder on the main line tracks just west of Pittsburgh.

Rail spokesmen said the rock and earth apparently topped onto the tracks from an overhanging hill following heavy rains.

Killed in the freak wreck were J. G. Lightburn, 66-year-old veteran engineer, and R. G. Rombke, 24-year-old fireman and the father of a month-old-baby. The bodies are being returned to Crestline for services.

A 100-ton boulder toppled onto the Pennsylvania's main line tracks. The nine-car, double-header passenger train, traveling 60 miles an hour, was unable to stop in time.

Both Lightburn and Rombke were trapped in the second locomotive. The time of the wreck was set at 1:28 p. m., 13 minutes after the train pulled out of Pennsylvania station at Pittsburgh, bound for Detroit and Chicago. The train was due in Mansfield about 4:45 p. m.

Engineer E. W. Shank, Beaver, Pa., and fireman A. A. Pearl, of Freedom, Pa., crawled from the wreckage of the lead locomotive in time to flag down a Cleveland-to-Pittsburgh passenger train traveling at high speed.

CARS JACKKNIFED

An eye witness reported that the collision jackknifed five of the nine cars, overturned both locomotives and ripped up about 200 feet of track. The last four coaches of the nine-car train remained on the rails.

Work crews early today had reopened two of the four main line tracks to through traffic and continued clearing away debris.

H. D. Krugle, a railroad official, said 125 passengers were aboard the train at the time of the accident at West Bellevue, near Pittsburgh. Ten of the 12 injured persons remained in hospitals late today and two were sufficiently recovered for discharge.

The wreck intensified a nation-

FREAK WRECK—Two Crestline railroad men died in the freak train mishap (above) when a 100-ton boulder toppled onto the Pennsylvania railroad main line near Pittsburgh, wrecking a westbound passenger train. The dead crewmen, engineer J. C. Lightburn and fireman R. G. Rombke, both of Crestline, were trapped in the second of two locomotives. Twelve passengers and trainmen were hurt. Rescue work was complicated by the fact that the accident scene was below an overhanging cliff. The injured had to be carried on stretchers to ambulances a quarter of a mile away. The bodies of the Crestline railroaders are being returned for services Friday and Saturday.

Tribe Fans Forget Time

They Just Want To Know Score

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Clevelanders don't care what time it is—all they want to know is the score.

At least that's the idea during World Series time. For years local folk have called Greenwich 1212 to find out the o'clock. But as of now the Greenwich 1212 number gives the result of the Boston-Cleveland World Series games.

Yesterday, as the Boston Braves, headed by Billy Southworth of Sunbury, O., beat the Tribe 1-0, despite Bob Feller's two-hit performance, a new peak in calls to the Greenwich number was recorded. So the telephone company said, and it's expecting a repeat performance until the classic concludes.

The Tribe and the Braves are meeting again today in Boston in the second contest of the big event, but those two tilts, so far as Cleveland is concerned, are just practice swings. The series really gets under way here Friday with the third game.

And for that game, local hotels announced, some rather worthy guys and gals will be on hand

Despite the influx of celebrities, along with thousands of guys named "Joe," rooms will be found for everyone seeking to see the series.

So said the Cleveland convention and visitors' bureau, which has lined up a flock of private residence rooms for those who fail to get hotel accommodations

Cleveland is ready for the gang to come in for the third, fourth and fifth series games.

Miners Set New Holiday

CINCINNATI —(AP)— The United Mine Workers' convention today unanimously adopted a resolution to make John L. Lewis' birthday, Feb 12, a national holiday in the coal industry.

Convention delegates went to work today on fourth round wage and welfare demands to be handed to coal operators next summer.

The miners, like workers in other basic industries, have had three yearly wage-rate boosts since war ended two years ago.

The union, in 40th convention, will approve the general objectives of a fourth postwar contract to be sought by John L Lewis The amount of pay increase to be sought was not expected to be fixed at this convention, but the 3,000 miners and UMW officials at the meeting were certain to ask at least for the same pay for a 35-hour week as the diggers now receive for five eight-hour days.

The amount to be sought in the next contract, to be effective July 1, may depend largely on the cost of an expansive medical and hospital service program which was announced today.

Dr. Warren F. Draper, former army and public health service executive, told reporters that the UMW was embarking on a program eventually aimed at taking care of the medical needs of every miner and his family "from having babies to the care of cancer."

Bulletin . . .

PONTIAC, Mich. — (AP) — Wayne County Prosecutor James N. McNally said today he would ask a warrant charging Carl Bolton, 39, and two unidentified persons with the attempt on the life of Walter P. Reuther last April 20.

Dollar Stretches a Bit

Meat Prices Drop In City Markets

Mansfield housewives, plagued by soaring food prices for the past year, will get a "breather" this week end when they shop for meat.

That dollar bill which last week would buy only a pound of steak and a postage stamp, will this week stretch to the purchase of steak PLUS a loaf of bread. That is the word today from several of the city's meat dealers, who say that meat prices are definitely headed down. A chain store manager here said sirloin steaks which last week end sold for 97 cents will be 85 cents tomorrow, leaving enough out of that dollar bill for a second food purchase.

Another meat dealer said frying meats are in the toboggan category, with prices going down definitely since cooler weather.

"Meats like pork chops and steaks are definitely dropping in price," this meat dealer said today. "Since cooler weather has arrived, people are eating sauer kraut and pigs knuckles and less frying meat. With the demand less, prices naturally drop.

"I think," he added, "that prices are definitely starting down a little at a time. It would be too bad if they took a sudden nose dive. That wouldn't be good for any business."

Included in the price drops here are calla hams, last week 55 cents per pound and this week at 47 cents; lamb chops from 93 to 77 cents. Beef roast will take a smaller drop. Last week it sold for 79c; this week, it is expected to be 69 cents.

The drop in prices here reflects reports from all over the country Porterhouse steaks, which sold at $1.15 per pound in New York last July are now selling around 89 cents per pound.

Food prices generally, according to wire reports, showed a downward trend this week. At the same time, housewives all over the country have been watching their budgets carefully.

Consumers, according to a nation-wide survey, bought a little more meat but they were looking for the inexpensive cuts They also clung to butter substitutes. They bought more canned goods, the report disclosed, but tapered off a little on fresh vegetables and frozen foods.

U. S. Trees Astound Zulu

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Albert John Luthuli, chief of 4,000 Zulus, thinks America has a decided edge on South Africa when it comes to trees.

A few minutes before Luthuli met Gov. Thomas J. Herbert today, the Zulu chieftain remarked:

"We don't have the woods in South Africa that you have here. It came as quite a surprise to me to discover that America is quite a jungle" Luthuli is attending the foreign mission world assembly in Columbus.

Goldovsky Entertains With Piano

Word-Music Stories Please Crowd

By MARGUERITE MILLER

Boris Goldovsky, an artist who believes the audience "should know the background of music to enjoy it," proved his point last night to Mansfield Civic Music association patrons.

Skillfully mixing the development of the piano as the basic musical instrument, anecdotes from the lives of composers and witty quips on his own interpretations, Goldovsky then added his brilliant musicianship to round out one of the most delightful programs presented to civic music members.

The audience loved it Most of the time it seemed as if Goldovsky was a guest in your own home, chatting casually with you about "good music" and then demonstrating with some of the brightest music ever presented in a Mansfield concert.

"You get so much more out of a concert that way," one member of the audience remarked upon leaving John Simpson auditorium. "I've never enjoyed a concert so much!"

That comment seemed to be the popular reaction to the tall, affable Goldovsky who rolled off his explanations in his delightful Russian accent as informally as he told of his little son's reaction to the "Choo-choo train" Toccata of Serge Prokofieff.

Goldovsky's appearance opened the 12th winter season for the Civic Music association.

Beginning with the two sonatas written "with apologies" by Domenico Scarlatti for the harpsichord, Goldovsky explained the evolution of the piano into the clavichord with "Two-part Invention" and "Prelude from Well-tempered Clavichord" by

Vishinsky Urges Ban On Bombs

Blames Allies For War Aims

PARIS — (AP) — Russia accused the western powers today of blocking world disarmament for the past 20 years, and demanded the Big Four immediately cut their armies by a third.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky led off debate in the United Nations political committee on a Russian resolution calling for a ban on atom bombs and a one-third cut in armed forces and armaments within a year.

A few minutes before, the political committee had shunted to an 11-nation subcommittee the east-west dispute over atomic energy controls.

The Russians had urged in the political committee that the atomic energy commission scrap its work of two and a half years, and "let in a breath of fresh air."

The political committee, made up of all 58 U.N. members, adopted an Ecuadorean resolution establishing the atomic study subcommittee. This group will draft a resolution directing the atomic controls treaty. The Russian bloc supported the resolution.

NAMES COMMITTEE

Committee President Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium named to the committee the United States, Britain, France, Russia, China, Canada, Brazil, Ecuador, India, Sweden and the Soviet Ukraine.

Vishinsky, taking up his arms reduction proposal, declared Russia has been striving for world disarmament more than 20 years, but that the west brought all efforts to naught because of concern over "security first." He said the United States continuously insisted on "ludicrous" proposals for arms reductions.

The Soviet deputy foreign minister said all disarmament conferences resolved to a situation in which "the land powers demanded naval disarmament while the naval powers demanded land disarmament."

Vishinsky said "here we are again, 20 years later," with British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin returning to the prewar formula of security first in his speech to the assembly Sept. 27.

PARIS —(AP)— Six members of the United Nations security council not involved in the Berlin crisis were reported today solidly in favor of raising the Soviet blockade.

An authoritative source said that was the first reaction of the six countries at a caucus after the United States, Britain and France presented their charges against Russia to the full council. The western powers charged that the Berlin blockade threatens world peace.

The neutrals on the council are China, Syria, Belgium, Colombia, Argentina and Canada. The Soviet Ukraine is siding with Russia against hearing the case in the security council.

As the council marked time until its next meeting, the United States, Britain and France considered drafting a formal proposal that the council call on Russia to raise the Berlin blockade. Informed sources predicted the council's next meeting would be Saturday morning.

Says Pickets Stoned Him

NLRB Witness Flays Union

GALION—Lloyd Bender, vice president of the North Electric Manufacturing company, charged today at a National Labor relations Board court hearing here, that strikers stoned and injured him three times last year during the plant's 72-day walkout.

He also related on the stand that a company truck was mysteriously burned and hinted that it was the work of the picketing United Auto Workers (VIO) union.

Mary Ann Berger, questioned about picket activities during the strike, said employes "could come out if they wanted to." Miss Berger had previously stated before a congressional investigating committee that "we penned them in." She maintained yesterday that the latter statement applied to herself and other strikers and not to 375 employes who were kept in the plant by pickets for nearly 10 hours.

Another witness, Lloyd Bender, vice-president in charge of production and purchasing of the company, testified that Richard Gosser, UAW regional director, told him: "If you try to open the Galion plant, there will be people killed."

Bender said the conversation with Gosser took place in Mt. Gilead when Bender had gone to see the company's branch plant there open after a court injunction had been granted. Bender will continue his testimony today.

In all, 45 more witnesses are slated to be called in the hearing on the unfair labor charges by both the North Electric company and the United Auto Workers (CIO).

The trial opened in city hall yesterday with Philip Fusco, general counsel for the NLRB prosecuting both the union case and the company's case. Lowell Goerlich, attorney for the UAW-CIO, is cross-examining the witnesses called in the company's case

Burglar Hurt, But Gets Money

WOOSTER —(AP)— One safecracker apparently was injured last night when the office of the Rittman Packing company at nearby Rittman was burglarized and $2,000 stolen.

Wayne County Sheriff E. E. Mills said the blood-spattered office indicated that one of the burglars had been injured by safe-opening tools.

Blast Hurts Bucyrian

BUCYRUS—An explosion at the Nicholls Bakery, 107 South Sandusky street, here today injured 28-year-old Ted Rush, a baker.

Investigating officer B. Denzer said that the blast rocked the building, breaking the plate glass window and lifting the skylight off its base.

Denzer said that Rush had lighted a match, causing the explosion.

He was taken to City hospital where attaches treated him for cuts on his hands and burns on his face, neck and arms. He was later released.

The Ohio Fuel Gas company reported after an investigation that there was no gas leak.

Self-Confessed Spy Heard By Federal Grand Jurors

NEW YORK — (UP) — Elizabeth Bentley, confessed Soviet courier and espionage agent, appeared Wednesday before a federal grand jury investigating communism in the U S She was in the grand jury room for two hours

In testimony before the House unAmerican activities committee this summer, Miss Bentley named several government employes who, she said, had aided her willingly or unwittingly in supplying the Russians with secret military information.

William Z Foster, national chairman of the Communist party and one of 12 who have been indicted by the grand jury meanwhile sought dismissal today of the indictments on grounds that the Department of Justice exerted pressure on the grand jury

Foster also charged that no evidence supporting the indictments had been placed before the grand jury and said "all sorts of pressure was applied in the form of government loyalty campaigns, newspaper stories and unsuccessful attempts to pass anti-communist laws in Congress

The indictments charged conspiracy to overthrow the government by force

An affidavit by Attorney General Tom C Clark denied Foster's charges.

Sain Bests Feller, Indians In Opener, 1 to 0

Lemon and Spahn Nominated Today

By LEO H. PETERSEN, UP Sports Editor

BOSTON—The brilliant pitching which marked the first game figured to continue in the world series today as Warren Spahn of the Boston Braves faced Bob Lemon of the Cleveland Indians.

It didn't figure to be a thriller like yesterday when Johnny Sain bested Bobby Feller to give the Braves a 1 to 0 victory in one of the best hurling duels in series history. But Spahn and Lemon are pretty close to being as good as they come, and if they are in form this afternoon it could be another battle that will go right down to the wire.

Lemon, who was the strong man on the Cleveland mound corps in mid-season when Feller faulted, won 20 games this season—the first man in the majors to attain that mark in 1948—while Spahn won 15 for the Braves, many of them in the stretch drive in which Boston overhauled the Dodgers to win the National league pennant. Spahn lost 11, Lemon 14.

"Naturally, we felt badly about not getting Feller a run out there yesterday," Boudreau said. "But I'm still sure we'll win the series. Bobby will go again in Cleveland Sunday—if not before—and we'll do better by him then."

TOUGH LOSS

It was a tough one for the Iowa fireballer to lose, for he yielded only two hits in turning in one of the most brilliantly pitched games in series history. But he made the mistake of passing Salkeld to start off the Braves' eighth and then with men on second and first with two out, grooved a fast ball for Tommy Holmes.

The Braves right fielder belted it down the third base line and Phil Masi, running for Salkeld, came in to score the run which gave the Braves victory.

Marv Rickert, the rawest recruit ever to play in the series—he was called up from Milwaukee the week the season closed to take the place of the injured Jeff Heath—got the only other hit off Feller. He really was in on a pass, for both the Indians and Commissioner A. E. Chandler had to grant the Braves special permission to use him in the series.

HURLS GREAT GAME

As for Sain, he, too, hurled a great game. He yielded only four hits, and with runners on the bases, bore down to close the door on the Indians, whose batting power to left field was hampered by a strong wind. Sain never pitched a greater game than yesterday and probably never will he win one that meant so much.

For it put the Braves out in front in a series which was expected to be easy for the Indians. Now it might be a lot different, for there was no doubt but what Sain's performance gave the Braves a great lift in morale.

Not since Bucky Harris, then managing the Yankees' put the winning run on base in the 1947 series, has there been the second guessing which plagued Boudreau today.

The second guessers were wondering why he ordered Eddie Stanky passed in the Braves' eighth inning.

Salkeld had started that inning with a walk—the second of three which Feller yielded—and was sacrificed to second by Mike McCormick. Boudreau then ordered Feller to pass Stanky to get Sain.

That strategy almost worked, for with Sain at bat, Feller whirled around and threw to Boudreau at second. He stabbed at the fallen Phil Masi, running for Salkeld, but Umpire Bill Stewart, a National leaguer who had been in several hot disputes during the season, called Masi safe.

State Players Escape Injury

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Ohio State's Buckeyes were a relieved and happy crew today.

They went through their first scrimmage in a couple of aeons yesterday—with no injuries.

The only men missing from the workouts with the first, second and third string freshmen were left guard Ray Di Pierro, who stands practically no chance of getting into Saturday's Iowa game, and left tackle Dick O'Hanlon.

The first and second frosh teams took the Hawkeye assignment and ran through the Iowa plays and the third stringers took a 40-minute beating as the Iowa defense.

World Series—Play By Play

(By Associated Press)

FIRST INNING
Indians

Sain's first pitch to leadoff batter Mitchell was a ball. Mitchell hit the next serve to Mike McCormick in left center. Doby swung at a three and two pitch and lofted an easy fly to M. McCormick in dead center. Boudreau fouled out to Rickert near the left field boxes.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Holmes lined to Doby in left center field. Dark sent a slow bounder to Robinson who barely beat the runner to the bag sliding into first base for the putout. Torgeson was called out on strikes.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SECOND INNING
Indians

Gordon looked at a third strike. With the count two and two, Keltner singled over Elliott's head for the first hit of the series. Judnich lined to Holmes, and Keltner just managed to beat the throw back to first base on an attempted double play. Torgeson got down on his knee to make a nice stop of Robinson's wicked smash down the first baseline, and stepped on the bag for the unassisted putout.
No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Braves

Judnich came in fast to gather in Elliott's soft fly in short right. Rickert lofted to Doby in right center. Salkeld struck out on three pitches, swinging at a blazing fast one for the third strike.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

THIRD INNING
Indians

Elliott failed to hold Hegan's sharp grounder and was charged with an error as the runner reached first safely. Feller missed two attempts to bunt, then struck out swinging at a high one. Mitchell fouled to Elliott who made the catch in back of the third base coacher's box. Hegan took advantage of Sain's slow windup and stole second, sliding in ahead of Salkeld's throw with plenty to spare. Doby bounced directly to Dark who tossed him out.
No runs, no hits, one error, one left.

Braves

M. McCormick offered at Feller's first pitch and sent an easy pop to Boudreau in short left field. Stanky fouled off a couple of pitches, then popped to Keltner. Sain fouled to Robinson who caught the ball close to the first base field boxes.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FOURTH INNING
Indians

Boudreau struck out. He foul tipped the third strike but Salkeld held onto the ball. Gordon singled into center, the ball skinning by Dark's outstretched glove. Keltner struck out on a hit and run play, and when Salkeld dropped the third strike, Gordon reached second, credited with a stolen base. Salkeld had to throw to Torgeson at first to retire Keltner. Credit Sain with a strikeout. Salkeld with an assist, and Torgeson with a putout. Judnich filled to Holmes.

Braves

Holmes rapped back to Feller who speared the ball on one bounce and threw to Robinson for the out. Gordon scooped up Dark's grounder and threw him out. Torgeson walked on five pitches to become the first Boston base runner. Torgeson stole second sliding in ahead of Hegan's high throw which pulled Gordon off the bag. Mitchell came in fast to gather in Elliott's looping fly just inside the third base foul line.

FIFTH INNING
Indians

Robinson fouled off a curve and then reached out and golfed another curve to Holmes who made the catch in short right. Hegan poked a single into left. Feller laid down a neat sacrifice. Salkeld fielding the ball in front of the plate and threw to Torgeson at first for the putout as Hegan took second. Mitchell swung under another of Sain's curved balls and sent an easy fly to Rickert in short left.

Braves

Before Rickert stepped to the plate for his turn at bat, Umpires Barr at the plate and Summers at first walked to the mound and chatted with Feller and Boudreau. Rickert rifled a single past the outstretched glove of Robinson into right field for Boston's first hit of the game. Salkeld sacrificed Rickert to second. Hegan to Robinson. M. McCormick raised an easy pop to Gordon behind second base. Feller gobbled up Stanky's weak tap to the box and tossed him out.

SIXTH INNING
Indians

Doby rapped a single through the center of the diamond. With the hit and run play on, Boudreau smacked a one bouncer to Stanky who tossed him out. Doby taking second. Sain attempted to pick Doby off second but the runner slid back safely. Gordon flied to Rickert in left center. Doby holding second. Keltner sent Rickert back almost to the left field wall for his 350-foot line drive.

Braves

Sain hit Feller's first pitch on one bounce to Boudreau who tossed him out. With a count of three and two, Holmes raised an easy fly to Mitchell who caught the ball without moving from his tracks. Doby sauntered in to take Dark's lazy fly in shallow center.

SEVENTH INNING
Indians

Judnich flied to Holmes who made the catch about 15 feet in front of the right field fence. Robinson sent an easy fly to Holmes in short right field. M. McCormick came in fast to catch Hegan's attempted bid for a Texas leaguer.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Braves

Robinson raced to his right and made a brilliant gloved hand stop of Torgeson's sharp smash and tossed underhandedly to Feller who covered first for the out on a very close play. Feller sustained a superficial spike wound but after a moment of rest was able to continue pitching. Feller grabbed Elliott's high bounder near the third base foul line and just managed to nip the runner with a long throw to first. Rickert popped a 1-1 pitch to Boudreau who made the catch just inside the left field foul line behind third base. Feller was relying mostly on curve balls, occasionally whizzing in his famed fast ball.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

EIGHTH INNING
Indians

Feller went down swinging to become Sain's fifth strikeout victim. Mitchell flied to M. McCormick in deep center field. Rickert scampered across the left field line to haul in Doby's high foul fly.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Braves

Salkeld walked on five pitches. Phil Masi was sent in to run for Salkeld. M. McCormick rolled a sacrifice bunt along the first baseline and was out, Feller to Robinson as Masi took second. Stanky was given an intention base on balls. Sibby Sisti ran for Stanky. Sain lined Feller's first pitch right in to Judnich's hands and the runners held their bases. Feller threw to Boudreau in an attempt to pick Masi off second but the runner slid back on his stomach safely. Boudreau put up a mild protest but soon subsided. Holmes swung at an outside pitch and singled between Keltner and third base. Masi scoring. On Mitchell's throw to the plate Sisti raced from second to third and Holmes moved to second. Dark slapped a grounder to Keltner who threw him out.
One run, one hit, no errors, two left.

NINTH INNING
Indians

Masi replaced Salkeld behind the plate and Sisti replaced Stanky at second for the Braves. Boudreau took a strike, then sent M. McCormick back almost to the left center field wall for his long smash. Dark caught Gordon's high pop foul about 20 feet behind third base. Elliott pulled down Keltner's high bounder but threw wild to first and Keltner reached second on the error. The ball bounced into the stands and Keltner was automatically awarded second base. Judnich missed two curved balls and then looked at another to become Sain's sixth strikeout victim, ending the game.

Ol' Satch Can't Crash the Gate

BOSTON — (AP) — Satchmo Paige has waited years and years to be a part of a world series — and when he finally makes it he's barred from the park.

The elderly Negro Cleveland pitcher was stopped at the players' entrance long before game time.

"Ah's a ball player," Paige told the attendant.

Finally, another Cleveland player vouched for Paige and they let him in.

Bobby Feller Gets Beat, But Doesn't Respect Foe

By JOE REICHLER

BOSTON —(AP)—Although beaten by the Boston Braves the first time he ever pitched in a world series, Bob Feller today hinted he didn't have much respect for his conquerors as a ball club.

Asked if his two-hit performance in yesterday's losing 1-0 effort against Johnny Sain in the 1948 world series opener, wasn't his best of the year, Feller replied: "I had pretty good stuff out there yesterday, but I wasn't nearly as good as again Detroit and the Boston Red Sox recently. I might not have given up as many hits yesterday as in the other games, but I pitched against better hitters on the Tigers and Red Sox."

LIKES BRAVES

"I'd rather pitch against the Braves any day than against the Red Sox," the Cleveland Indians' fireballer added. "The Braves have nobody who could match Ted Williams, Bobby Doerr, Vern Stephens, Dom DiMaggio and Johnny Pesky."

Bob was not too downhearted over his heart-breaking defeat, although he made no secret of the fact that he thought Umpire Bill Stewart "blew" a call which decided the ball game.

The incident occurred in the eighth inning with the Braves at bat. Phil Masi, a pinch runner, was on second, Sibby Sisti, another substitute runner, was on first and there were two out. Feller attempted to pick Masi off second with a quick throw to Lou Boudreau. The play was close, but Stewart ruled the runner safe. Boudreau argued vigorously to no avail.

"I thought the throw had him beat," Bob said. "I'd like to see the pictures. I think they'll show that I caught two men napping—Masi and Stewart."

TAGS MASI

Boudreau backed Feller, insisting that he had Masi "clean."

"I put the tag on him as he came sliding head first into the bag," Lou said. "I tagged him up the arm, and knocked his hat off as he came sliding in. He was out in my book, but Stewart thought differently, and he's the boss."

Feller said he had fine control, but blamed his walking Salkeld on his eagerness to make the Braves' catcher bite for an inside pitch.

"That led to my downfall," he grinned ruefully. "It seems every time I walk a man I get beat."

Casey Stengel's On Inside Track

BOSTON —(INS)— Casey Stengel, former major league pilot, is believed to have the inside track today on the managerial job with the New York Yankees.

Stengel, one-time manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Boston Braves, led the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast league to the pennant this season. He is regarded as one of the smartest men in baseball.

2 Basketball Loops Planned In Mansfield

City basketball leagues will be formed in the near future, Stan Kamen, recreational director, announced today.

Present plans call for a pair of leagues, one a Class A and one Class B. Any teams interested in entering the circuits may contact Kamen at 3391-1. Entry fee for the Class A league has been set at $40 while the "B" fee has not been determined.

The Class A games will probably be played this year at John Simpson junior high school.

League competition will start the last week in November. Kamen has a county basketball tournament scheduled to close the season with a city tourney also a possibility.

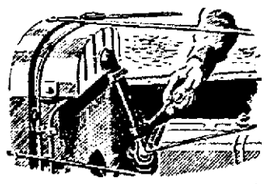
Get a DU PONT ANTI-FREEZE today!

Why it's wise to have your serviceman inspect the cooling system before putting in anti-freeze.

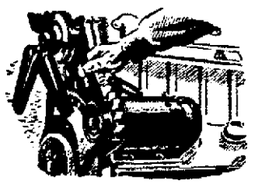
YOU BUY anti-freeze to protect your motor from a freeze-up and to help it run more efficiently by keeping the cooling system free from rust. If anti-freeze leaks out, what have you got? NO protection . . . maybe a ruined engine block. Heavy expense, your car laid up. (And you've lost your anti-freeze.)

So, before installing anti-freeze, have the cooling system gone over. No repairs may be needed—but even a simple inspection is worth what it may cost. Here's what a cooling system inspection should include:

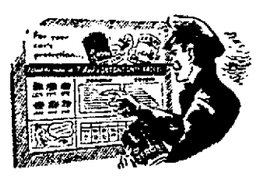
1. INSPECT RADIATOR—If it's rust-clogged, it should be drained and cleaned. (Du Pont Cooling System Cleanser is one of the best for the job.)



2. CHECK FOR LEAKS—Radiator hose, clamps, pump, and cylinder head bolts should be tight. Your serviceman has tools and know-how to make repairs.



3. CHECK FAN, BELT AND HEATER—Slipping belts should be adjusted—replaced if worn. Heater hoses should drain properly and not trap air.



4. PUT IN ANTI-FREEZE—A "Zerone"* "Zerex"* chart shows amount needed. Radiator tag identifies anti-freeze, warns against draining. *Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

Sidelights . . .

(By International News Service)

The last pitcher before Boston's Johnny Sain to hurl a 1 to 0 shutout in world series opener was Art Nehf of the New York Giants who whitewashed the Yankees in 1923.

★

The last four teams which won the opening game by a shutout lost the series.

★

The last pitcher to hurl a shutout in a series curtain-raiser and have his team go on to win the world title was the immortal Babe Ruth. In 1918. Ruth shut out the Chicago Cubs 1 to 0 and the Red Sox won the series, four games to two.

★

The Braves have never lost a world series game. The Bostonians boast five straight, the win yesterday, and four in a row over the Philadelphia A's in 1914, the only other time the Braves have been in the big series.

★

Lou Boudreau is the second player-manager to appear in a world series. Gabby Hartnett led the Chicago Cubs against the New York Yankees in 1938 and his team lost four straight.

Scoffs at Reports

ST. PAUL, Minn.—(U.P.)—Frank Lane president of the American association, today scoffed at reports that he had been offered the general managership of the Chicago White Sox, to replace Leslie O'Connor.

Goes For 13th

GRANVILLE—Denison university's football powerhouse will be shooting for its 13th victory when it entertains Beloit College in the Homecoming game on Deeds Field Saturday at 2 p. m.

Second Biggest Daily Double Paid at Ascot

AKRON —(AP)— The daily double at Ascot Park yesterday was good for $2,880, the second largest in Ohio racing history, and only one man held a ticket. He wouldn't give his name.

The winners were Monarch, paying $47.40, and War Coat, paying $12.60. The record was $4,645, paid at River Downs, Cincinnati, in 1934.

Kentucky Futurity Scheduled For Today

LEXINGTON, Ky. —(AP)— Two fast-stepping trotters continue their rivalry here today in the 56th renewal of the Kentucky Futurity, second richest harness race of 1948. The $50,071 event drew seven entries.

The contest promises to be a battle between Egan Hanover, the Saunders Mills entry from Toledo, O., and Tollo, the Coldstream Stud hopeful from Lexington.

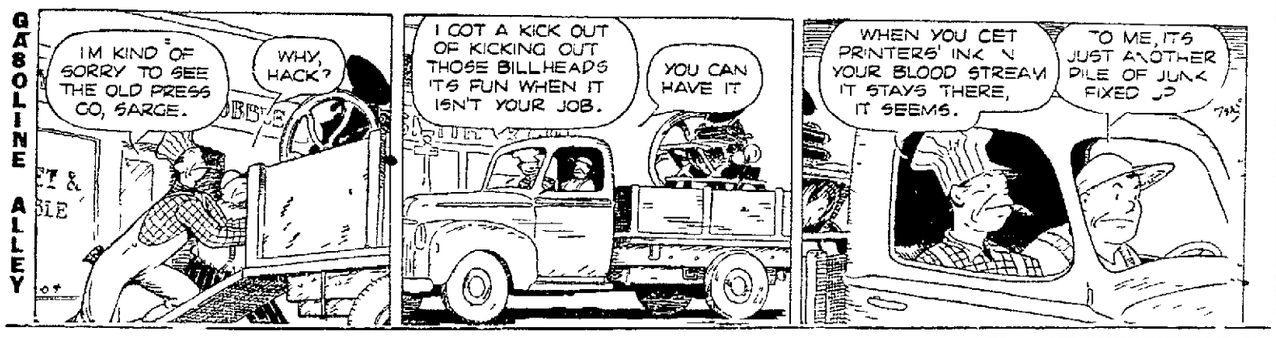
THE CHINESE GEE EYES ARE STOWING THE LAST OF THE STUFF ABOARD TERRY
CHOPS WORKED FAST INSTEAD OF DEADHEADING NORTH AFTER THE KID, WE'VE GOT A CHINESE RED CROSS CARGO FOR A PAY LOAD.
YEAH, AND SINCE IT'S CONSIGNED TO THE OUTFIT WHOSE PATROL SIGHTED THE KIDNAP PLANE WE'LL GET A CHANCE TO TALK TO THE PILOTS AND MAYBE PICK UP A LEAD.
HI, GUYS! LETS GET THIS ROAD COMPANY POSSE UNDER WAY
WE'RE ALL SET, SPRAY.. WHAT TH!
WELL MEN, SHALL WE AVIATE?

GASOLINE ALLEY



I'M KIND OF SORRY TO SEE THE OLD PRESS GO, SARGE.
WHY, HACK?
I GOT A KICK OUT OF KICKING OUT THOSE BILLHEADS 'ITS FUN WHEN IT ISN'T YOUR JOB.
YOU CAN HAVE IT
WHEN YOU GET PRINTERS' INK IN YOUR BLOOD STREAM IT STAYS THERE, IT SEEMS.
TO ME, ITS JUST ANOTHER PILE OF JUNK FIXED UP

RIP KIRBY

OH RIP! I'M SO GLAD I FOUND YOU! ISN'T IT AWFUL? POOR BETSY! I'VE HOPED AGAINST HOPE..
PLEASE DEAR TAKE IT EASY TELL ME JUST WHAT HAPPENED
INSPECTOR FORSYTHE PHONED THAT THEY HAD FOUND A GIRLS BODY IN THE RIVER. THEY THINK IT'S BETSYS. THEY WANT ME TO COME TO SCOTLAND YARD RIGHT AWAY AND THEY KEEP ASKING FOR BETSYS PICTURE. I WISH I HAD ONE WELL I HAVE!
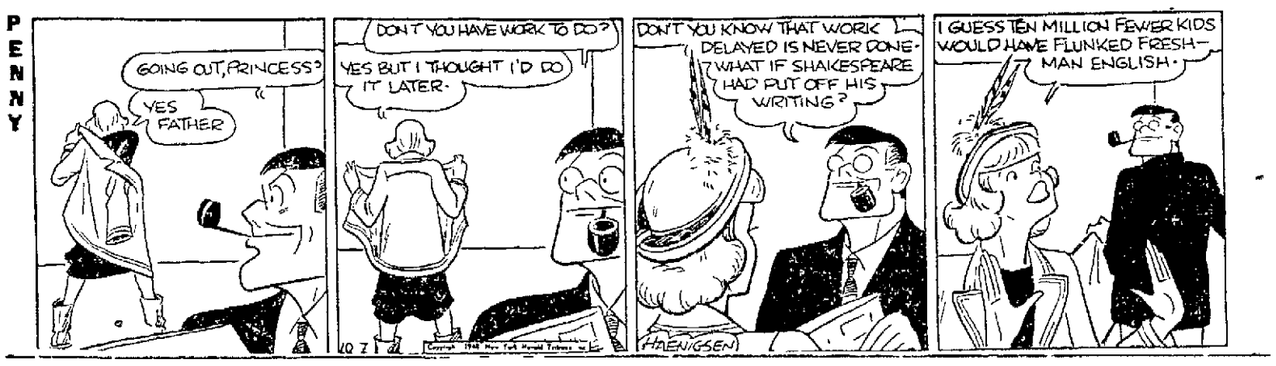
WHY DID YOU CUT OUT BETSYS PICTURE? YOU NEVER TOLD ME! HOW LONG HAVE YOU HAD IT?
WEEKS AS A MATTER OF FACT NOW YOU RUN ALONG AND GET READY TO GO
BUT IT WAS MY PICTURE AND IT'S MY FAULT SHE'S JEALOUS SHALL I EXPLAIN SIR?
NO I RATHER LIKE IT!

PENNY



GOING OUT, PRINCESS?
YES FATHER
DON'T YOU HAVE WORK TO DO?
YES BUT I THOUGHT I'D DO IT LATER.
DON'T YOU KNOW THAT WORK DELAYED IS NEVER DONE- WHAT IF SHAKESPEARE HAD PUT OFF HIS WRITING?
I GUESS TEN MILLION FEWER KIDS WOULD HAVE FLUNKED FRESHMAN ENGLISH.

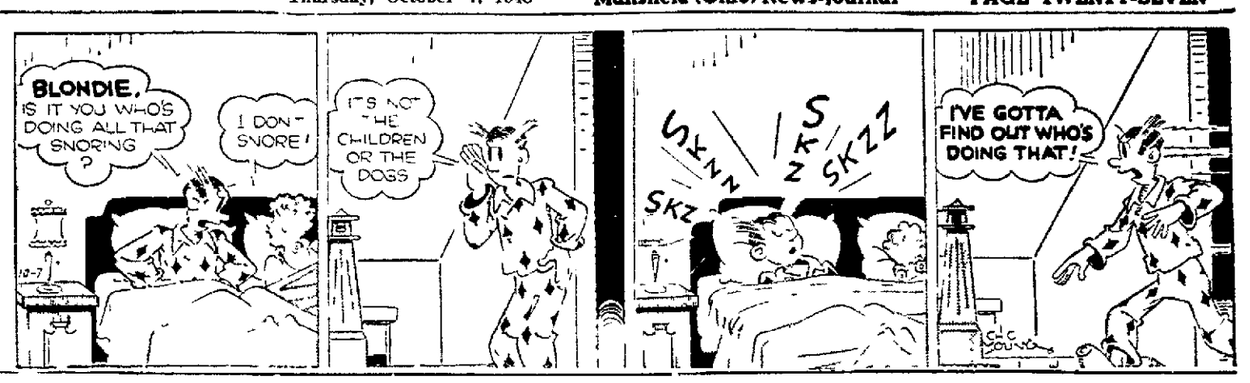
SUPERMAN

THERE'S JUST A CHANCE THAT BY DODGING THE BEAM OF ENTHOR'S WEAPON AS HE AIMS IT, I MIGHT BE ABLE TO CLOSE IN...
WELL! SUPERMAN'S DECIDED TO RISK IT. WON'T HE EVER LEARN?
HE'S DODGING THE BEAM AND COMING CLOSER! SO THAT'S HIS GAME! WELL— WE'LL SEE!
JOHNSON! COME BACK, YOU FOOL!
SORRY, CAPTAIN, BUT FOR ONCE I'M DISOBEYING ORDERS! I'VE GOT TO SAVE SUPERMAN!

BLONDIE



BLONDIE, IS IT YOU WHO'S DOING ALL THAT SNORING?
I DON'T SNORE!
IT'S NOT THE CHILDREN OR THE DOGS
SKZZ
I'VE GOTTA FIND OUT WHO'S DOING THAT!

ORPHAN ANNIE

ALL SET! NOW YOU GUYS HANG AROUND TH' POOLROOM SO YUH GOT AN ALIBI SNOZZ AN' ME LL DO TH' JOB AN MEET YUH THERE RIGHT AFTER WOT'S TH' KID SIS FOR?
SHE'S D' LOOKOUT YUH SAP NOBODY AT TH END O' TH' ALLEY'LL PAY HER NO 'TENTION
BUT SHE CAN SPOT A COP A BLOCK AWAY--I'M GIVIN' HER A WHISTLE JUST IN CASE -- YOU AN' ME GOES IN CASE A COP COMES ALONG, SHE BLOWS AND WE GOT PLENTY TIME TO LAM- C'MON, LETS GO - GOT YER GUN READY?
YEAH!

DICK TRACY

WE'VE MADE CASTS OF SEVERAL FOOTPRINTS AT THE SITE OF THAT DIET SMITH SHOOTING, BUT THE TROUBLE IS THERE WERE SO MANY
THAT'S OKAY—JUST HOLD THEM PAT, AND KEEP ALL THE EVIDENCE CAREFULLY THERE ISN'T A CRACK IN THIS CASE YET BUT THERE WILL BE
WE'VE SET UP THE JEWELRY STORE AND HAVE OUR CAMERAS AND RECEIVERS ALL SET
GOOD! THE MEETING GETS UNDER WAY TO-MORROW AT 11 O CLOCK
NOW, WHEN THE CHIEFS ARRIVE, I SUGGEST MY LETTERS TO THEM BE THEIR CARDS OF ADMITTANCE
A VERY GOOD IDEA, TRACY WE DON'T WANT ANY PHONIES ADMITTED

LI'L ABNER

OH! THET SHMOOICIDE SQUAD SHORE IS GOIN' AT IT FAST AN FOORIOUS." EV'RY TIME YO HEARS A "BANG" SIX MORE LI'L SHMOOS GOES T' GLORY"
BANG! BANG! BANG!
EVERY SHMOO IN THESE HILLS HAS BEEN WIPED OUT." OTHER SHMOOICIDE SQUADS ARE DOING THE SAME FINE JOB ALL OVER THE COUNTRY." AMERICA IS NOW RID OF THIS PEST— AND YOU CAN ALL GO BACK TO YOUR NORMAL WAY OF LIFE."
OH, CUSS MAH NORMAL WAY O LIFE."—AH HATES GOIN' BACK TO IT." WORK AN' WORRY—DAY AN' NIGHT." NO MATTER HOW MUCH AH EARNS, PRICES IS JEST A LI'L HIGHER! OH (SOB!) IT'S TOO BAD THEM SHMOOS WAS PESTS!" THEY SHORE MADE LIFE HAPPY FO' US."—

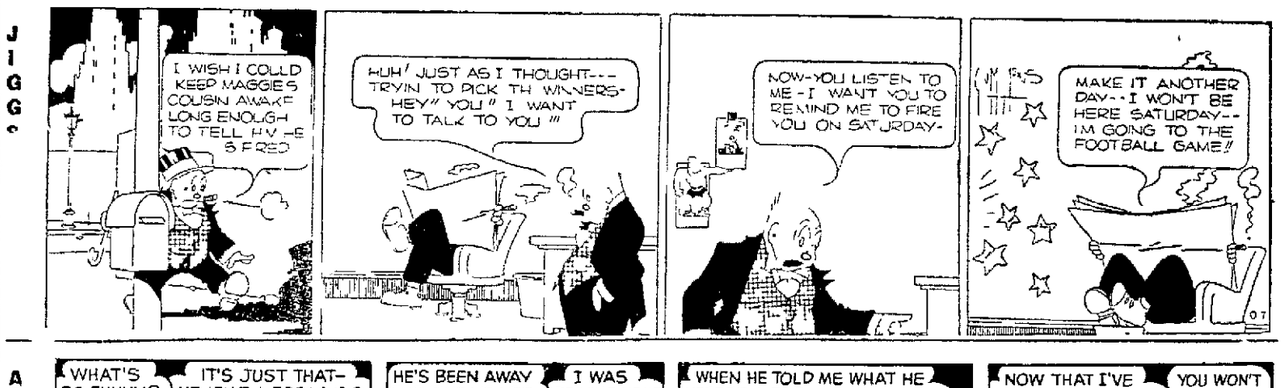
WHAT BUCKO SEES--
I'M GOING TO GET THAT BLOKE! FLY UPSTREAM— I'VE GOT A PLAN!

JIGGS



I WISH I COULD KEEP MAGGIE'S COUSIN AWAKE LONG ENOUGH TO TELL HIM HE SPRED
HUH! JUST AS I THOUGHT--- TRYIN TO PICK TH WINNERS- HEY" YOU" I WANT TO TALK TO YOU"
NOW-YOU LISTEN TO ME-I WANT YOU TO REMIND ME TO FIRE YOU ON SATURDAY-
MAKE IT ANOTHER DAY--I WON'T BE HERE SATURDAY-- I'M GOING TO THE FOOTBALL GAME!!

ABBIE AN' SLATS

WHAT'S SO FUNNY?
IT'S JUST THAT- HE ISN'T A PREACHER HE'S- LARRY!!
HE'S BEEN AWAY FOR TWO YEARS- SINCE THE NIGHT CLEM BEAT HIM UP FOR CALLING ON ME.
I WAS DRIVING HOME FROM NEBRASKA CLEM DIDN'T RECOGNIZE ME WHEN HE HAILED MY CAR.
WHEN HE TOLD ME WHAT HE NEEDED A PREACHER FOR- I DECIDED I'D BETTER BE ONE. YOU'RE NOT MARRIED TO VIGORINA BUT MAYBE- SOME DAY- I'LL BE-- NOW THAT I'VE GOTTEN HER AWAY FROM THEM-MAYBE I CAN TALK HER INTO IT.
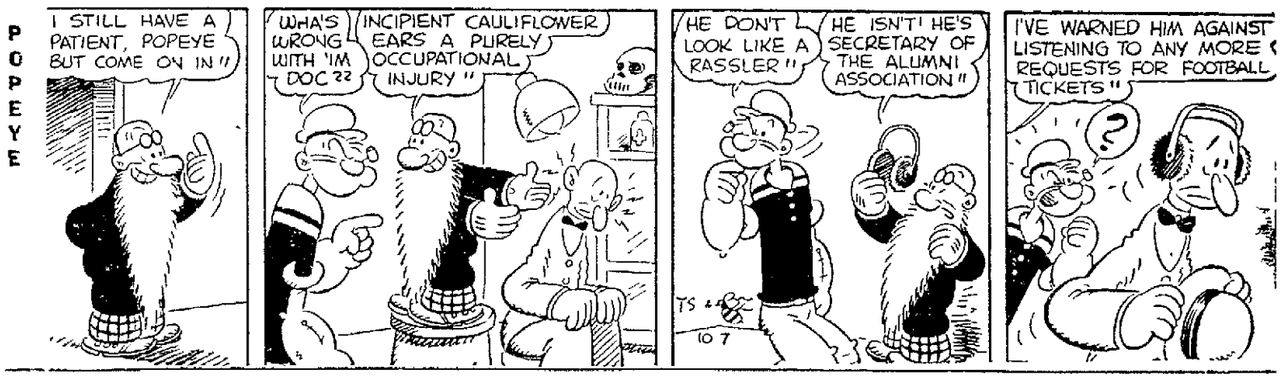
YOU WON'T HAVE TO TWIST MY ARM, LARRY.

POPEYE



I STILL HAVE A PATIENT, POPEYE BUT COME ON IN!"
WHA'S WRONG WITH 'IM DOC??
INCIPIENT CAULIFLOWER EARS A PURELY OCCUPATIONAL INJURY"
HE DON'T LOOK LIKE A RASSLER!"
HE ISN'T! HE'S SECRETARY OF THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION" I'VE WARNED HIM AGAINST LISTENING TO ANY MORE REQUESTS FOR FOOTBALL TICKETS"

THE NEBBS

GENTLEMEN, I AWAIT YOUR VERDICT WITH CONFIDENCE
ANYBODY WOULD THINK YOU COOKED THE HAMBURGERS INSTEAD OF PHOEBE
THEY GOTTA BE EXTRA SPECIAL TO BEAT EMMA GRUNTLEY'S
IM AFRAID RUDY PRAISED THEM TOO HIGHLY
NO, HE DIDN'T... I WISH MY HEPSY HAD YOUR RECIPE
IVE EATEN HAMBURGERS FROM COAST TO COAST BUT NEVER SO LUSCIOUS AS THESE!
PHOEBE, HOW'D YOU LIKE TO BOARD ME PERMANENT AT YOUR PLACE?
WILBUR, YOU HAVENT SAID A WORD
NO, BUT I'M DOING A POWERFUL LOT OF THINKING!

State Balks At Children's Home Plans

Urges County to Keep Present Building; Welfare Council Asked

(Editor's Note: This is the fust of a series of stories dealing with the report of the State Welfare department on Richland county's child welfare program.)

* * *

Keep the Richland county Children's home on its present site but expand and modernize it.

Reduce the home population one-third by placing children of pre-school age in foster homes.

Create a community welfare council to coordinate the work of county agencies on behalf of children.

These were recommendations submitted to the county commissioners and County Child Welfare board yesterday by the State Welfare department following a two-month survey of child care activities in the county.

The County Child Welfare board previously had proposed that the Children's home be moved outside the city on a larger site. The present building on Hedges is 80 years old and has been described as out-of-date and overcrowded.

The state report, in recommending a community welfare council, said "there is a lack of cooperation and understanding among the many agencies serving children in Richland county."

It added that the agencies spend a great deal of time trying to determine which agency should take care of which case. Meanwhile, the applicants are frequently stranded without service.

The board should relate its work to the work of other agencies serving children in the county, the report said. "Without such coordinatel effort the board's funds will be wasted in duplications of work, and some necessary services will be totally lacking."

The report said that Richland county can secure a greater return on the tax dollar by increasing expenditures for service than by building a new children's home.

The state group said the present home is accessible to many community resources needed by both the children and staff members.

Concerning financing, the report said expenditures for child welfare have not kept pace with the community's needs. It says that to provide even the minimum needs will require spending a greater share of the tax dollar.

"The fact that financing has not been more adequate is due to the Child Welfare board's failure to determine needs, to formulate plans for a program designed to meet them, and to request the necessary funds on the basis of known needs."

It added that additional funds will be needed for the staff, more varied and flexible services, extension of care and improvement of the home building.

The availability of funds must be determined by the community and its officials, the report said, but adds that "it seems reasonable to conclude that Richland county can provide the funds to meet services required for dependent and neglected children."

The report said the Child Welfare board has not accepted the full responsibilities accorded it by the County Children's Service act. The board has not been guided by modern principles of child care, and therefore, the report added, the board has been unable to develop a broad program as intended and specified in the law.

RAPS WELFARE BOARD

It said the Child Welfare board, created in January, 1946, has done little more than its predecessor, the board of trustees of the children's home. The report said the board has tried to function with a staff limited in number and qualifications.

"The board's drastic reduction of the administration and case work staff during 1947 placed further restrictions on its capacity to carry out its responsibilities." The report called for

2 Crestline Men Die In Wreck

Train Hits Rock Near Pittsburgh

12 Passengers Injured

Two Crestline trainmen were killed and 12 passengers were injured yesterday afternoon when the Fort Pitt, Pennsylvania railroad Pittsburgh-to-Chicago train, crashed into a huge boulder on the main line tracks just west of Pittsburgh.

Rail spokesmen said the rock and earth apparently topped onto the tracks from an overhanging hill following heavy rains.

Killed in the freak wreck were J. G. Lightburn, 66-year-old veteran engineer, and R. G. Rombke, 24-year-old fireman and the father of a month-old-baby. The bodies are being returned to Crestline for services.

A 100-ton boulder toppled onto the Pennsylvania's main line tracks. The nine-car, double-header passenger train, traveling 50 miles an hour, was unable to stop in time.

Both Lightburn and Rombke were trapped in the second locomotive. The time of the wreck was set at 1:28 p. m., 13 minutes after the train pulled out of Pennsylvania station at Pittsburgh, bound for Detroit and Chicago. The train was due in Mansfield about 4:45 p. m.

Engineer E. W. Shank, Beaver, Pa., and fireman A. A. Pearl, of Freedom, Pa., crawled from the wreckage of the lead locomotive in time to flag down a Cleveland-to-Pittsburgh passenger train traveling at high speed.

CARS JACKKNIFED

An eye witness reported that the collision jackknifed five of the nine cars, overturned both locomotives and ripped up about 200 feet of track. The last four coaches of the nine-car train remained on the rails.

Work crews early today had reopened two of the four main line tracks to through traffic and continued clearing away debris.

H. D. Krugle, a railroad official, said 125 passengers were aboard the train at the time of the accident at West Bellevue, near Pittsburgh. Ten of the 12 injured persons remained in hospitals late today and two were sufficiently recovered for discharge.

The wreck intensified a nation-

100-Ton Boulder That Wrecked Train

R. G. Rombke . . . Victim

FREAK WRECK—Two Crestline railroad men died in the freak train mishap (above) when a 100-ton boulder toppled onto the Pennsylvania railroad main line near Pittsburgh, wrecking a westbound passenger train. The dead crewmen, engineer J. C. Lightburn and fireman R. G. Rombke, both of Crestline, were trapped in the second of two locomotives. Twelve passengers and trainmen were hurt. Rescue work was complicated by the fact that the accident scene was below an overhanging cliff. The injured had to be carried on stretchers to ambulances a quarter of a mile away. The bodies of the Crestline railroaders are being returned for services Friday and Saturday.

Vishinsky Urges Ban On Bombs

Blames Allies For War Aims

PARIS — (AP) — Russia accused the western powers today of blocking world disarmament for the past 20 years, and demanded the Big Four immediately cut their armies by a third.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky led off debate in the United Nations political committee on a Russian resolution calling for a ban on atom bombs and a one-third cut in armed forces and armaments within a year.

A few minutes before, the political committee had shunted to an 11-nation subcommittee the east-west dispute over atomic energy controls.

The Russians had urged in the political committee that the atomic energy commission scrap its work of two and a half years, and "let in a breath of fresh air."

The political committee, made up of all 58 U.N. members, adopted an Ecuadorean resolution establishing the atomic study subcommittee. This group will draft a resolution directing the atomic controls treaty. The Russian bloc supported the resolution.

NAMES COMMITTEE

Committee President Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium named to the committee the United States, Britain, France, Russia, China, Canada, Brazil, Ecuador, India, Sweden and the Soviet Ukraine.

Vishinsky, taking up his arms reduction proposal, declared Russia has been striving for world disarmament more than 20 years, but that the west brought all efforts to naught because of concern over "security first." He said the United States continuously insisted on "ludicrous" proposals for arms reductions.

The Soviet deputy foreign minister said all disarmament conferences resolved to a situation in which "the land powers demanded naval disarmament while the naval powers demanded land disarmament."

Vishinsky said "here we are again, 20 years later," with British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin returning to the prewar formula of security first in his speech to the assembly Sept. 27.

PARIS —(AP)— Six members of the United Nations security council not involved in the Berlin crisis were reported today solidly in favor of raising the Soviet blockade.

An authoritative source said that was the first reaction of the six countries at a caucus after the United States, Britain and France presented their charges against Russia to the full council. The western powers charged that the Berlin blockade threatens world peace.

The neutrals on the council are China, Syria, Belgium, Colombia, Argentina and Canada. The Soviet Ukraine is siding with Russia against hearing the case in the security council.

As the council marked time until its next meeting, the United States, Britain and France considered drafting a formal proposal that the council call on Russia to raise the Berlin blockade. Informed sources predicted the council's next meeting would be Saturday morning.

Says Pickets Stoned Him

NLRB Witness Flays Union

GALION—Lloyd Bender, vice president of the North Electric Manufacturing company, charged today at a National Labor relations Board court hearing here, that strikers stoned and injured him three times last year during the plant's 72-day walkout.

He also related on the stand that a company truck was mysteriously burned and hinted that it was the work of the picketing United Auto Workers (VIO) union.

Mary Ann Berger, questioned about picket activities during the strike, said employes "could come out if they wanted to." Miss Berger had previously stated before a congressional investigating committee that "we penned them in." She maintained yesterday that the latter statement applied to herself and other strikers and not to 375 employes who were kept in the plant by pickets for nearly 10 hours.

Another witness, Lloyd Bender, vice-president in charge of production and purchasing of the company, testified that Richard Gosser, UAW regional director, told him: "If you try to open the Galion plant, there will be people killed."

Bender said the conversation with Gosser took place in Mt. Gilead when Bender had gone to see the company's branch plant there open after a court injunction had been granted. Bender will continue his testimony today.

In all, 45 more witnesses are slated to be called in the hearing on the unfair labor charges by both the North Electric company and the United Auto Workers (CIO).

The trial opened in city hall yesterday with Philip Fusco, general counsel for the NLRB prosecuting both the union case and the company's case. Lowell Goerlich, attorney for the UAW-CIO, is cross-examining the witnesses called in the company's case

Tribe Fans Forget Time

They Just Want To Know Score

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Clevelanders don't care what time it is—all they want to know is the score.

At least that's the idea during World Series time. For years local folk have called Greenwich 1212 to find out the o'clock. But as of now the Greenwich 1212 number gives the result of the Boston-Cleveland World Series games.

Yesterday, as the Boston Braves, headed by Billy Southworth of Sunbury, O., beat the Tribe 1-0, despite Bob Feller's two-hit performance, a new peak in calls to the Greenwich number was recorded. So the telephone company said, and it's expecting a repeat performance until the classic concludes.

The Tribe and the Braves are meeting again today in Boston in the second contest of the big event, but those two tilts, so far as Cleveland is concerned, are just practice swings. The series really gets under way here Friday with the third game.

And for that game, local hotels announced, some rather worthy guys and gals will be on hand.

Despite the influx of celebrities, along with thousands of guys named "Joe," rooms will be found for everyone seeking to see the series.

So said the Cleveland convention and visitors' bureau, which has lined up a flock of private residence rooms for those who fail to get hotel accommodations.

Cleveland is ready for the gang to come in for the third, fourth and fifth series games.

Dollar Stretches a Bit

Meat Prices Drop In City Markets

Mansfield housewives, plagued by soaring food prices for the past year, will get a "breather" this week end when they shop for meat.

That dollar bill which last week would buy only a pound of steak and a postage stamp, will this week stretch to the purchase of steak PLUS a loaf of bread. That is the word today from several of the city's meat dealers, who say that meat prices are definitely headed down. A chain store manager here said sirloin steaks which last week end sold for 97 cents will be 85 cents tomorrow, leaving enough out of that dollar bill for a second food purchase.

Another meat dealer said frying meats are in the toboggan category, with prices going down definitely since cooler weather.

"Meats like pork chops and steaks are definitely dropping in price," this meat dealer said today. "Since cooler weather has arrived, people are eating sauer kraut and pigs knuckles and less frying meat. With the demand less, prices naturally drop.

"I think," he added, "that prices are definitely starting down a little at a time. It would be too bad if they took a sudden nose dive That wouldn't be good for any business."

Included in the price drops here are calla hams, last week 55 cents per pound and this week at 47 cents; lamb chops from 93 to 77 cents. Beef roast will take a smaller drop. Last week it sold for 79c, this week, it is expected to be 69 cents.

The drop in prices here reflects reports from all over the country. Porterhouse steaks, which sold at $1.15 per pound in New York last July are now selling around 89 cents per pound.

Food prices generally, according to wire reports, showed a downward trend this week. At the same time, housewives all over the country have been watching their budgets carefully.

Consumers, according to a nation-wide survey, bought a little more meat but they were looking for the inexpensive cuts. They also clung to butter substitutes. They bought more canned goods, the report disclosed, but tapered off a little on fresh vegetables and frozen foods.

U. S. Trees Astound Zulu

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Albert John Luthuli, chief of 4,000 Zulus, thinks America has a decided edge on South Africa when it comes to trees.

A few minutes before Luthuli met Gov. Thomas J. Herbert today, the Zulu chieftain remarked: "We don't have the woods in South Africa that you have here. It came as quite a surprise to me to discover that America is quite a jungle." Luthuli is attending the foreign mission world assembly in Columbus.

Doctors Ask $500 Each

The two psychiatrists who examined Robert Murl Daniels, convicted murderer, have presented bills to Richland county, asking $500 each for their services, Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch said today. The judge said he had not yet taken any action on the statements.

The two psychiatrists, Dr. J. F Bateman, superintendent of the Columbus State hospital, and Dr. R. E. Bushong, superintendent of the Lima State hospital, found Daniels sane both at the time of the crime and at the time of the examinations.

Both were appointed by the court and testified during the trial when they presented their findings.

Daniels was found guilty of the murder of three members of the John E. Niebel family and was sentenced to die in the electric chair on Jan. 3 by a three-judge court. He had pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity.

Dying Vet Unaware of Army Pardon

CHICAGO —(INS)— A 23-year-old army veteran was unaware today that his Ashtabula, Ohio, parents had won a two-year fight to clear his name and wipe out a dishonorable discharge from the service.

The former soldier, Fred Caruso, lay in a coma in the Illinois Neuropsychiatric hospital in Chicago. He is now deaf and blind from a malignane brain tumor.

Doctors held little hope for his recovery. They said it would be merciful if he never regained consciousness.

The army review board in Washington gave Caruso a full pardon yesterday and erased a prison sentence from his record. The action followed an earlier state pardon granted by Illinois Gov. Dwight H. Green.

Caruso had been convicted of burglary in Peoria, Ill., in 1946, while still in service. The army discharged him without honor after he was sentenced to Stateville prison at Joliet, Ill.

The man's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Caruso of Ashtabula, O., could not believe their son was responsible for his actions and began the battle which won a pardon for him.

Miners Set New Holiday

CINCINNATI —(AP)— The United Mine Workers' convention today unanimously adopted a resolution to make John L. Lewis' birthday, Feb. 12, a national holiday in the coal industry.

Convention delegates went to work today on fourth round" wage and welfare demands to be handed to coal operators next summer.

The miners, like workers in other basic industries, have had three yearly wage-rate boosts since war ended two years ago.

The union, in 40th convention, will approve the general objectives of a fourth postwar contract to be sought by John L. Lewis. The amount of pay increase to be sought was not expected to be fixed at this convention, but the 3,000 miners and UMW officials at the meeting were certain to ask at least for the same pay for a 35-hour week as the diggers now receive for five eight-hour days.

The amount to be sought in the next contract, to be effective July 1, may depend largely on the cost of an expansive medical and hospital service program which was announced today.

Dr. Warren F. Draper, former army and public health service executive, told reporters that the UMW was embarking on a program eventually aimed at taking care of the medical needs of every miner and his family "from having babies to the care of cancer."

Beer Bottles Form Platform

A conscientious and indignant Mansfielder reported to The News-Journal this morning that he saw a city department truck loading beer at a distributing center.

The sharp-eyed citizen, however, failed to notice that the cardboard cases contained empty bottles.

An investigation revealed that the cases were being taken to the Mansfield-Leland hotel to provide a base for a speakers' platform during sessions of the Ohio Waterworks association now in convention at the hotel.

Thieves Steal Steel Bridge Beams

CHILLICOTHE, Mo. —(AP)— A Livingston county 30-foot steel bridge has been stolen.

John Slattery, county highway engineer, said the thieves ripped off the bridge flooring, tossed it into the stream, then used a cutting torch to dismantle the steel beams.

Goldovsky Entertains With Piano

Word-Music Stories Please Crowd

By MARGUERITE MILLER

Boris Goldovsky, an artist who believes the audience "should know the background of music to enjoy it," proved his point last night to Mansfield Civic Music association patrons.

Skillfully mixing the development of the piano as the basic musical instrument, anecdotes from the lives of composers and witty quips on his own interpretations, Goldovsky then added his brilliant musicianship to round out one of the most delightful programs presented to civic music members.

The audience loved it. Most of the time it seemed as if Goldovsky was a guest in your own home, chatting casually with you about "good music" and then demonstrating with some of the brightest music ever presented in a Mansfield concert.

"You get so much more out of a concert that way," one member of the audience remarked upon leaving John Simpson auditorium. "I've never enjoyed a concert so much!"

That comment seemed to be the popular reaction to the tall, affable Goldovsky who rolled off his explanations in his delightful Russian accent as informally as he told of his little son's reaction to the "Choo-choo train" Toccata of Serge Prokofieff.

Goldovsky's appearance opened the 12th winter season for the Civic Music association.

Beginning with the two sonatas written "with apologies" by Domenico Scarlatti for the harpsichord, Goldovsky explained the evolution of the piano into the clavichord with "Two-part Invention" and "Prelude from Well-tempered Clavichord" by

Burglar Hurt, But Gets Money

WOOSTER —(AP)— One safecracker apparently was injured last night when the office of the Rittman Packing company at nearby Rittman was burglarized and $2,000 stolen.

Wayne County Sheriff E. E. Mills said the blood-spattered office indicated that one of the burglars had been injured by safe-opening tools.

Blast Hurts Bucyrian

BUCYRUS—An explosion at the Nicholls Bakery, 107 South Sandusky street, here today injured 28-year-old Ted Rush, a baker.

Investigating officer B. Denzer said that the blast rocked the building, breaking the plate glass window and lifting the skylight off its base.

Denzer said that Rush had lighted a match, causing the explosion.

He was taken to City hospital where attaches treated him for cuts on his hands and burns on his face, neck and arms. He was later released.

The Ohio Fuel Gas company reported after an investigation that there was no gas leak.

Mid-Air Blast of Electronics Research Bomber Kills 9

Investigators Study Cause Of Accident

Four Men Saved From Crew of 13

WAYCROSS, Ga. — (U.P.) — Air Force investigators hunted through scattered fragments of a B-29 electronics research bomber here today in an attempt to discover what caused it to explode in the air, killing nine of the 13 men aboard.

Witnesses said they saw the plane fall to pieces and heard a roar like a thunderclap as the bomber cruised over Waycross at an estimated altitude of 8,000 to 10,000 feet yesterday.

Pieces of wreckage rained over a 20-acre area on the outskirts of town, followed by four survivors who floated to safety under parachutes.

Rescue crews found nine bodies at the scene. Four were wedged tightly in the tail section, largest intact piece of the plane, and another was found in a forward section of the fuselage. Four other mangled corpses were pulled from the marshlands where the wreckage fell.

The four survivors, who pulled their parachute ripcords as they were blown free of the bomber, were identified as Co-Pilot Capt. H. W. Moore, of Pittsburgh; Technical Sgt. E. W. Murhee, of Miami, Fla.; Staff Sgt. W. J. Penny, of Bayonne, N. J., and E. H. Mechler, of Erlton, N. J., a civilian observer from Franklin institute at Philadelphia.

The Air Force confirmed that 13 men were aboard when the B-29 left its home base at Warner-Robins field, near Macon, Ga. Five were civilian technicians and eight were Air Force personnel.

Names of the dead were not disclosed pending notification of next of kin.

EXPERIMENTAL FLIGHT

The plane was believed making an experimental flight, possibly involving cosmic ray research. The Air Force would say only that the bomber was engaged in "electronic research on different types of radar."

The four survivors were reported "shaken up" by their parachute landings but not otherwise injured. They were not hospitalized

Col. H. A. Moody, maintenance director at Warner-Robins, flew here immediately with two other investigating officers to prepare a report on the crash.

Witnesses reported that there was a loud explosion as the plane disintegrated in the air high over Waycross. One report said that a trail of black smoke streamed out behind the falling bomber.

A. C. Harvey jr., filling station attendant and an Air Force veteran, said he saw the whole thing He estimated the plane was flying at 8,000 to 10,000 feet when "it fell to pieces."

The plane had taken off about an hour before the crash, Air Force officials said.

Teachers Pick 2 Delegates

Delegates and alternates were named last night to represent Richland county schools at the annual meeting of the Ohio Education association during the Christmas holidays in Columbus

Delegates named were Howard Hofacre, Lexington superintendent, and W. S. Barger, Lucas superintendent. Alternates chosen were E. H. Rider, Bellville superintendent, and Randall Hartley, Shiloh superintendent.

They were chosen at a dinner-meeting of the Richland County Teachers' association last night in the Lexington high school More than 100 attended.

They heard Mrs Joseph Commisso, Ashland college student tell of her experiences as an exchange student in Argentina.

Music was provided by the Lexington high school music department and the "Galion Clippers," a barber shop quartet.

Bach. The Bach selections, he explained, were written by "father" Bach as piano exercises for his five sons.

This was followed by a Bach-Busoni collaboration, "Rejoice Beloved Christians,' a difficult composition involving left hand counterpoint "for the pianist unlucky enough to play it, Goldovsky said

Progressing then to Mozart, Schumann and Chopin, Goldovsky played the melodious "Adagio from Sonata in D Major, by Mozart; the too-seldom heard "Toccata, by Robert Schumann, and three Chopin studies. "Larghetto from Concerto in F Minor," "Etude in B Major" and an encore Chopin study. The stories of how the compositions came to be written preceded each selection.

Following intermission, Goldovsky contrasted "music of the heart" and "music of the head," playing Johannes Brahms' "Intermezzo in A Major" one of the "Lullabies" of Brahms' and "La Campanella," one of the six studies made by Franz Liszt on the violin technique of Paganini.

"Prelude" by Claude Debussy, of the French impressionistic school, introduced the modern compositions of the piano, followed by the humorous and well-received "A Wee, Bit Tipsy" by Bela Bartok.

Proving that Schumann had not written "a Toccata to end all Toccatas," Goldovsky then played the percussive "Toccata" by the modern Russian composer Prokofieff.

The lilting "Treasure Waltz," by Johann Strauss, and a Chopin "Nocturne" as encores concluded the concert.

Next concert of the season will be offered here on Nov. 30 by the Baltimore Symphony orchestra under the direction of Reginald Stewart.

Vandalism Reports Start

Reports of pre-Halloween vandalism began to reach the police department last night as two southwest end residents reported early celebrating by youths.

Guy White, 434 Cline avenue, reported that boys were soaping neighborhood windows at 7:30 p. m. At 8:34 p. m., Mrs. P. V. Schemine, 381 Davis road, reported pranks in the same neighborhood.

Earlier yesterday, Frank Miller, 458 Wayne street, reported that several windows at a construction job at 536 Wayne street had been broken by boys on their way home from school.

County Gets Report On Child Care

State Recommends Home Be Improved

strengthening of the administrative and institutional staffs.

The scope of the child welfare program is "exceedingly narrow," the report stated. It added that the board has failed to provide case work skills. "Preventive and protective services are not given to children in their own homes to prevent unnecessary separation of children from parents," it said.

"A program of services is not provided to children with behavior or other problems needing special attention, to unmarried mothers or for children in need of placement for adoption.

"Sufficient use is not made of foster family boarding, free, and wage homes or of homes or institutions offering specialized care and treatment for particular problems."

The report said the quality of service is not sufficient to meet the needs of the children already under care, and recommended that services be extended to children known to be in need of care.

SERVICE LIMITED

"On the whole, the work of the staff is not effective," the report said. "Only the day-to-day needs of the children are being met, and they are not being prepared to resume their natural places in the life of the community."

The two state workers who made the study said their conclusions and recommendations were based on the generally accepted standards of child care and not on the basis of comparing the programs of other counties.

The survey was made by Mrs. Virginia S. Ferguson, assistant supervisor of field services for the state division of social administration, assisted by Miss Mary Jane Paumier, child welfare consultant.

They and Henry J. Robison, chief of the division of social administration, and John R. Ferguson, head of children's services, went over the report yesterday with the county commissioners.

Later, commissioners went over the report with the Child Welfare board. Another meeting of the three groups has been scheduled for Oct. 14, commissioners said, after all concerned have had an opportunity to study the 80-page report thoroughly.

Defendant Wins Verdict

A common pleas jury that deliberated for more than three hours late yesterday returned a verdict for Frank J. Dalton, of Shelby, defendant in a suit for $4,151. The hearing opened Monday.

The plaintiffs, R. B. Ridenour, U. S. Route 30-S, C. H. Wolfe, 547 Crescent road, and the Perfect Rubber company, same address, contended that they had entered into an agreement with Dalton to purchase his claims against the Ohio Soya company, of New Washington, for $12,842, but the Soya company allowed them only $8,690 as due Dalton.

The plaintiffs contended that they were to receive the difference if the amount due was not in the amount they paid for the claims, which was denied by D[illegible]n.

The plaintiffs were represented by Attorney William H. Calhoun, and Dalton by Attorneys Myers and Spurock of Bucyrus.

A suit for $4,800, filed by Oscar J. Marcus, 210 Cline avenue, for damages as a result of an auto collision started today. The defendant, Joseph Letizia, Mansfield R. D. 4, filed a cross-petition for $1,000.

BURGLARS STEAL COATS

CONNEAUT — (AP) — The Syndicate, a Main street store, lost 45 fur coats valued at $12,000 yesterday to burglars who avoided a burglar alarm system by using the front door.

Still Loves Him In Spite Of Murder

Tudor's 'Girl Friend' Loyal

SPRINGFIELD — (U.P.) — A police department employe remained loyal to her finance today as first degree murder charges were prepared against him in the murder of a teen-aged girl here Sunday night.

Miss Lillian Weaver, 30-year-old record clerk in the Columbus, O., police department, said she was "still in love" with Dwight D. Tudor, 26, of Columbus, and "I don't see why I should be turned against him."

Tudor signed a confession yesterday in which he stated he shot 15-year-old Mary Ann Page twice with a .22 caliber rifle after he had "picked her up" on a street here.

Miss Weaver was brought here as a material witness after she admitted to police that she had known since Monday that Tudor had killed a girl. She said she washed blood from his trousers and destroyed a file card on him in the Columbus police file.

"I'm still in love with him," the attractive divorcee told Sheriff J. Arthur Shuman. "He has never done anything to me and I don't see why I should be turned against him. He was just as good as he could be. We never had any trouble or any arguments.

"I cried and carried on because he had done such a thing. There's no use for me to try to figure it out."

Miss Weaver said she and Tudor planned to be married next week.

Tudor confessed the slaying yesterday to Everett L. McSavaney and Richard Longnecker, criminal investigators for the state welfare department.

Clark county Prosecutor Stanley N. Husted said a first degree murder charge probably would be filed against Tudor today.

Carnival Plans Set

Harvey M. FitsSimmons was returned to office last night as president of the South and Maple Lake Parks association, when members held their annual meeting.

Others who went into office with FitzSimmons were: Frend C. Boals, vice president, W. J. Lewis, second vice president; J. E. Clemens, secretary; R. M. Stevens, treasurer; H. J. Londot and C. H. Rupert, members of the board of directors.

Final arrangements for the Harvest Carnival were discussed. The carnival will be held Friday from 6 to 10 p. m. A midway of concessions will be arranged in the park area and music will be provided by the Johnny Appleseed Junior high school band. Booths will be decorated in keeping with the fall season and food and soft drinks will be sold during the evening.

During the evening, awards to the boy and girl selling the most tickets will be presented.

Because of the street improvement on Fairlawn avenue, association members have requested that those attending the carnival enter the midway at the Taylor road entrance.

Members also decided last night to discourage use of the Maple Lake bowl for a dump since the city cannot furnish a full-time supervisor. It will be filled in as the city has suitable material from time to time, members said.

VATICAN CITY —(AP)—Pope Pius XII appealed to Latin America last night to purge its newspapers and movies of "everything that might cause scandal or perdition for youth."

DEDICATE KETTERING WOODS—The woods on the Loudonville family farm of Charles F. Kettering, retired General Motors vice president, is now State Tree-Farm number 20. The woods was dedicated yesterday by the State Forestry division and the Ohio Forestry association and Kettering (left) was given a scroll for his part in developing and improving the stand of timber. "A hundred years ago forests took care of themselves but they will not be able to do this again," Kettering said as he accepted the scroll from Dr. Edmund Secrest, retired director of the State Agricultural Experiment station at Wooster. Examiner Ends Preliminary Work on Clear Fork Books

The state engineer-examiner who started a check yesterday of records of the Clear Fork lake project, completed preliminary work last night and returned to Columbus without indicating what he found. City Auditor Paul E. Kelley said today.

Kelley requested the audit, charging "irregularities" in handling of finances for the big water supply project.

The city auditor said Examiner H. W. Wendelken, who is making the audit, didn't disclose when his report would be made.

Questioned about the audit today, Mayor Roy W. Vaughn told a reporter: "I have no statement to make."

Kelley, a Democrat, and the past two Republican administrations have frequently been at odds over financing of the Clear Fork work. The program is being financed through the sale of bonds without a public vote. The project is expected to cost approximately $2,000,000.

Several Series Tickets Unclaimed

World series tickets have been coming to the Mansfield post office for the past few days without street addresses. They are being held at the postoffice until the parties who ordered them claim the tickets, Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford said. With the pasteboards so hard to come by it's a good idea for people who ordered them to check with the postoffice, he added.

Satira Plans Trip to Ohio

HAVANA — (INS) — Patricia (Satira) Schmidt planned to fly to her Toledo, O., home Friday morning after her pardon from a 15-year prison term for the fatal shooting of Chicago Attorney John Lester Mee.

The dancer was to be freed today from the Guanbacoa woman's prison, where she served a little more than nine months of her sentence for the yacht slaying of Mee.

She will visit Cuba's president, Ramon Grau San Martin to thank him for the pardon after her release. The pardon was arranged through the intercession of Mrs. Paulina Alsina Vda de Grau, the president's sister-in-law.

Fire Prevention Posters To Be Judged Tonight

Twenty-three posters entered in the Fire Prevention week contest by Mansfield junior high pupils will be judged tonight at Chamber of Commerce headquarters.

Prizes of $10, $5, and $2 will be awarded to the first three winners.

Judges for the contest are George E. Bennett, a commercial artist; H. R. McBride, portrait artist, and W. G. Schultz, chairman of the Fire Prevention week committee. The posters may be seen beginning tomorrow at the Ohio Public service office, 10 South Park street.

All entries in the fire department soapbox contest must be in at Central station by noon Saturday, according to Schultz. Prizes will include a $25 woodcarving set for first place, a $10 camera for second, and a $5 model airplane kit for third.

Mansfield's fire stations are holding open house this week. A $10 prize will be awarded to the person who comes nearest to guessing the city's fire loss for September.

Climaxing the week's features will be the downtown parade Saturday at 7:30 p. m. Prizes of $25, $10, and $5 will be given for the best floats.

Maps Labor Law Changes

COLUMBUS — (AP)—A recommendation that unions no longer be required to hold elections to obtain a union shop will be made by a joint committee of Congress next year, Rep. Fred A. Hartley (R., N.-J.) said here today.

Hartley, co-author of the Taft-Hartley labor law, said the recommendation would be one of several proposed changes that the 14-member House-Senate committee would make in the labor act in its report March 1, 1949.

The vice chairman of the joint committee declared that the Taft-Hartley law had become a "very lively issue" in the 1948 presidential election campaigns, despite earlier beliefs that it would not become an issue.

Hartley, here to confer with an Ohio Chamber of Commerce labor committee, also said the committee's report would include recommendations for strengthening the non-communist affidavit and mass picketing and violence sections of the law.

He declared that "loopholes" by which labor leaders escaped signing the non-communist statement would be plugged. The committee will recommend that management also be required to sign non-communist affidavits.

Supper Adds $35 to Fund

Members of the Home League of the Mansfield Salvation Army post collected $35 last night for their missionary fund from the supper served at the Army headquarters.

Members of this group will hold a meeting next Wednesday night to plan some of their projects for the winter months. October plans include a Halloween social and a speaker for Navy day later in the month. Mrs. William A. Jones, wife of the post commander, is adviser for the league.

Meetings are open to all women who may wish to join, Mrs. Jones said today.

Welfare Council Meets

Officers of the Richland County Child Welfare Council were to meet today with the Columbus officials to go over the report of the Welfare Department survey and make plans for a session of the entire council on recommendation regarding the county welfare program.

The meeting will be held at 4 p. m. in the Mansfield-Leland well, secretary.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Get The Truth!

Called on my good friend "Cappy" Miller, who edits the County Bee, the other day. And hanging up on the wall of Cappy's office is this slogan for his paper:

"Remember there are two sides to every question. Get both sides. Be truthful."

A good slogan ... not just for a newspaper—for people, too. Because there'll always be two sides to every question: the side of those who vote one way, and those who vote another—the side of those who enjoy a temperate beverage like beer or ale, and of those who swear by nothing but cider.

And from where I sit, once you've got both sides—and faced them truthfully, you realize that these differences of opinion are a precious part of what we call Democracy—the right of the individual to vote as he believes, to speak his mind, to choose his own beverage of moderation, whether beer or cider.

Some observers are commenting on how much healthier the GOP elephant is made to appear in cartoons this year.

An atomic energy explosion has been produced which works faster than the atomic bomb. The purpose, we trust, is useful, but such things sometimes get out of hand.

Information that "it takes a year to translate a bumper corn crop into lower meat prices" gives an idea that "what goes up must come down"—but much slower.

Meat Prices Gradually Dropping

AT THE PRESENT stage of meat prices, which are apparently on the down grade — but not much — a "watchful waiting" attitude on the part of consumers would seem to be advisable procedure.

Excess of demand over supply is recognized as the main factor in making possible such price boosts as have been experienced during the past year, and as the relief of substantially increased meat production cannot be expected soon, it is only by reduction in demand that any really worthwhile price reductions can be anticipated.

It is noticed that the kinds of meat in greatest demand are those that show least price cuts, so the wise buyer will turn to those which have been noticeably reduced in price—and buy only enough to meet immediate needs.

Meat that approaches or passes a $1 a pound price level is so far out of reach of consumers in the lower income brackets that every encouragement should be given to the downward trend that has now started — and this can best be done by continuance of the so-called "buyer resistance" that will tend to equalize supply and demand, and thus restore prices to a reasonable level.

Misconduct Reveals Parental Laxity

DELINQUENCY is frequently blamed on broken homes — and with justification. But it might be well to go a bit beyond this and note what is missing in a child's life in a broken home that causes him to be delinquent.

One need not look far. Affection is one thing. Discipline is the second.

The only discipline that amounts to anything is that which instills in a child healthy respect for the rights of others and a desire to conduct himself with reasonable propriety. Due leeway will always be given a child's natural exuberance and fierce energy.

With these thoughts in mind, one occasionally is forced to wonder if it is only the broken home that permits a child to mock the rights of others and conduct himself loudly and offensively.

The question can be made more pointed by any motorist who has driven through several of the city's "better" residential areas. Here children come from supposedly excellent homes. They have ample lawns on which to play. They are not forced into the street because their homes have no yards, back or front.

Yet these children from good homes can be found and are often found playing in the streets, yelling "smart" or impudent remarks at drivers who find it necessary to pass along the thoroughfare, and even standing insolently in front of the approaching auto as if daring the driver to strike him.

Here certainly is a lack of healthy discipline that is bound to carry over into the schools and later into business and social life.

You Really Should Write That Letter

THERE'S another "week" coming up this month—one that depends for its success on the extent to which individuals DO the thing they have been putting off for a long time . . . writing a letter to that relative or friend who would so greatly appreciate it.

Yes, the seven days from October 17 to 23 have been designated at National Letter-Writing Week, and while this may seem to hint at an effort to increase the volume of first class mail, with some emphasis on the greater speed of air mail delivery, the point to be considered is that attention will thus be called to the way in which many people neglect their correspondence—as well as the pleasure derived from receiving even an occasional letter from some absent member of the family or from a friend who is now living elsewhere.

It may be doubted if there is any reader of this editorial who hasn't in mind someone to whom he or she should write a letter, or who has been hoping for the arrival of a long-deferred letter from some friend or relative.

The fact that actual "letter-writing week" doesn't start until October 17 needn't delay the writing of any letter that you have in mind now. Maybe writing the letter immediately would result in a reply coming to you during that particular week, who knows.

Writer Who Outlived His Fame

HIS BOOK on slavery excited the country more than "Uncle Tom's Cabin," yet he died completely forgotten. This was the strange fate of Hinton R. Helper, who has come again into view because an enterprising publisher has just reprinted another book of his, "Dreadful California."

Helper was a North Carolinian who saw that slavery was ruining the South. He was particularly impressed with the plight of the poor white, which he pointed out with the utmost frankness in his most famous book, "The Impending Crisis." Published in 1857, it was furiously denounced in the South, partly because it tended to separate the poor whites from the wealthy planters, partly because it advocated a slave uprising. Two years later John Sherman, for over 40 years either senator or cabinet officer, was defeated for speaker of the House of Representatives because he indorsed "The Impending Crisis."

Helper lived until 1909 when, poverty-stricken and unremembered, his death rated three lines in the largest newspapers.

Viewing the National Scene

Little Enthusiasm Shown

By THOMAS L. STOKES

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Personal observation of the opening campaigns of both major candidates for the presidency this year leaves the impression of a restrained attitude on the part of the public, as contrasted with the exuberant enthusiasm and feverish air of anticipation that usually precedes a great national decision. There is natural curiosity and friendliness of a neighborly sort for both President Truman and Governor Dewey, but none of that wild fervor and frenzy that accompanied, for example, the comings and goings of the late President Roosevelt in election years and, for his one time out, of the late Wendell L. Willkie.

Both President Truman and Governor Dewey are, in a sense, somewhat shopworn. The President has been before the people for three years and is not an exciting figure.

Governor Dewey, who is personally more dramatic, likewise has been long in the public eye, and this is his second campaign in succession for the highest office in the gift of the people.

It may signify something that when President Truman visited the Pacific coast in June, his first appearance there as president, he drew tremendous street crowds in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle, the largest that had ever gathered in those cities, according to local authorities. The people turned out to see their President.

When he returned three months later for his second appearance, however, only thin and desultory crowds greeted him along the streets of Los Angeles and San Francisco—he did not go to Seattle and the northwest this time. Meanwhile, the Republican convention had nominated its candidates, and the President came in the role of a candidate.

* * *

Reaction of Listeners.

PERHAPS, too, the inevitability of the decision this year has had something to do with the obvious lack of enthusiasm. It has seemed clear for a long time because of circumstances previously detailed here that the country was in for a change, and it has seemed plain, likewise, that most people probably had made up their minds a long time ago, so that the campaign is only an interlude of little more than casual interest before the preordained decision is recorded early next month.

It has been the experience of both candidates on their first campaign trips, each through the West, that the people in smaller towns and cities appear in greater numbers proportionately than is the case in the big cities, whether, in the first instance, the candidate speaks from the back platform at the railroad station or leaves the train briefly for a parade and a speech at some central point.

For the smaller towns and cities, the appearance of a presidential candidate is an event of considerable importance, comparable to a circus. Usually the schools are let out for the day and children are very much in evidence, excited and eager on a holiday. They can't vote, but they make lots of noise.

President Truman appears to this observer the more effective as a back platform performer because of a folksy manner that is entirely natural and a knack for arousing his hearers by blunt and salty thrusts in the vernacular at the last Republican Congress, individual Republican leaders, and the Republicans in general.

While Governor Dewey has acquired a talent for what might be called "small talk" for back platform audiences, he is not as easy and informal as his rival.

But Dewey is far superior in formal appearances before audiences in halls and auditoriums where prepared speeches usually are in order. He is easy, polished and eloquent, a top rank platform speaker, where President Truman is jerky, less at ease, and gulps down occasionally a series of words or even whole sentences in one chunk so that they are lost upon his audience.

Governor Dewey's voice is superb, full and rich and deep, while the President's is devoid of the vibrant qualities essential for best effects in delivering a prepared speech.

A difference in crowd reaction to the two men is best symbolized by the fact that the air is full of "Hi, Harry" when the President rides by, but rarely does anyone ever shout "Hi, Tom," and then somehow it seems out of character.

The Nation Today

Very Unusual Campaign

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — There never has been a presidential campaign quite like this one.

It's remarkable: the identical things the two big candidates do.

For example, their bringing home from Paris this week Secretary of State Marshall and John Foster Dulles.

But go back a bit—

Early this month President Truman, with a 17-car train, started out on his campaign. He made his big opening talk at Des Moines.

Two days later, Gov. Dewey, with a 17-car train, started out on his campaign. He made his big opening talk at Des Moines.

Then Mr. Truman continued west to the Pacific Coast, making speeches as he went.

And Gov. Dewey continued west to the Pacific Coast, making speeches as he went.

There wasn't any similarity between the two men's talks when they spoke of what's happened here at home the past few years.

Mr. Truman used bare-knuckles on Dewey's Republicans for what they did or didn't do.

Dewey used gloves to hit Mr. Truman's Democrats for what they did or didn't do.

That was on domestic affairs.

* * *

Points of Agreement.

But when it came to talking about foreign affairs the two men spoke pretty much the same language.

That's because the Democrats and Republicans although they fight over what's done here at home see very nearly eye to eye on our foreign policy.

They've shaped it together.

They're agreed on helping Europe standing still against Russia and blocking the threat of communism.

But while the two presidential candidates were trying to snag votes in the west, this country reached a crisis with Russia in Europe.

This week the candidates were back home and—

John Foster Dulles, Dewey's chief adviser on foreign affairs, after a special flight from Paris, told the governor first hand the score in Europe.

And

Just about the time the Dewey-Dulles talk was ending, the White House announced that Secretary Marshall will make a special flight from Paris Saturday to tell Mr. Truman the score in Europe.

He's Mr. Truman's chief adviser on foreign affairs.

Dulles is a U.S. delegate to the United Nations meeting in Paris. Marshall is chief of the U.S. delegation to the U.N.

Dulles is mentioned as Dewey's choice for secretary of state to succeed Marshall if Dewey wins.

Dave Boone Says:

THIS is the week when there is but one thing on the agenda: baseball. A Security Council now means nine players in a huddle, the only occupation zone that counts is around third base and if you mention Palais de Chaillot to a fellow he will ask, "Who's he pinch hitting for?"

* * *

Nothing Vishinsky says can grip the world like "Lou Boudreau is up."

* * *

Ex-Governor "Toby" Cross, who died in Connecticut at 86, was one of those vanishing Americans — a fellow who put horse sense, strict candor and rugged honesty first. He was elected governor largely in a public reaction against double-talk and slippery politicians.

* * *

With all the honors that had come to him he had one ambition he said. That was to run a country store. Well, deep down under his scholarly exterior, he was a simple man, loving the simple ways of the small towns. There was a lot of the cracker-barrel philosopher in "Toby" Cross, and the country needs more of that type.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Paratroopers Exhibit Impressive Might

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The inside story has just leaked out how tough American paratroopers cleaned out a nest of 15,000 Soviet-Mongolian soldiers who had deserted from the Russian army in 1945 and holed up in the American sector of Berlin during the early days of the occupation.

An account of the incident was given to visiting senators and congressmen recently by Gen. Lucius Clay, American military governor in Berlin.

The Mongol troops had stayed behind in Berlin, hiding in the ruins, after the Russian army withdrew to its own sector, Clay reported.

Crazy with lust from their first taste of Western civilization, the savage Mongols lived off the city at night . . . killing, raping and looting. The only U. S. troops Clay had to keep order were green MP's, fresh from the states, and they were no match for the Mongols. These ruthless warriors from the Siberian plains beat up the American MP's, stole their revolvers and jeeps — and even killed a few.

Hard-pressed, Clay sent a frantic order to hold up the sailing of a battle-seasoned paratroop division just ready to leave for home. Diverted to Berlin, Clay outlined the situation and appealed to the paratroopers for help in cleaning out the Mongols.

The combat troopers organized into groups of five and combed the American sector, flushing the Russian deserters out of their hiding places. They met brutality with brutality, beat up the Mongols, broke arms and legs, killed a few who resisted.

Then they loaded the battered Mongols into trucks and dumped them at the gates of the Russian sector—where they faced court-martial charges for deserting the Soviet army.

It took ten days for the rugged paratroopers to clean up the job and this was the first contact American fighting men had with Soviet fighting men.

Impressed, Russian generals pried discreetly to find out from Gen. Clay whether all American combat troops were that tough.

Note—Gen. Clay repeatedly emphasized to his congressional visitors that the Russians only understood might, mistook conciliation for weakness. It would be a grievous error, he said, for the Americans to retreat from Berlin.

"I am convinced," declared Clay, "that there will be no war if we stand firm in Berlin."

No Brunettes For Stassen.

WHEN Capital Airlines volunteered to distribute the first shipment of red feathers for the annual Community Chest drive, pretty stewardess Lowell Bucher was assigned to deliver the feathers at each airport.

Her plane arrived late in Minneapolis, due to an Air Force day ceremony that clogged traffic at a previous stop.

At Minneapolis, while Community Chest leaders waited for Miss Bucher's plane to arrive, they spied former Governor Harold Stassen, also at the airport, and requested him to remain and greet Miss Bucher and her red feathers.

Regretfully, Stassen declined. He had to take off immediately for a speaking engagement.

"That's too bad," remarked a Chest official. "You don't know what you're missing. This girl is some dish. Brunette and 21."

"Ah, politics," wistfully sighed the GOP leader, "I know where is thy sting."

No More Pearl Harbors.

HIGH Pentagon officials, worried over the Berlin crisis, are determined not to be caught napping. They have devised a special telephone system so they can be reached day and night. Some of them recall the dinner-table conversation between the late Secretary of the Navy Knox and War Production boss Donald Nelson on Dec. 4, 1941—three days before Pearl Harbor—as told in Bruce Catton's book, "War Lords of Washington."

"I feel that I can speak very frankly, within these four walls," Knox told the dinner guests. "War may begin in the Pacific at any moment. Literally, at any moment. It may even be beginning tonight, while we're sitting here.

"But I want you all to know that no matter what happens, the United States Navy is ready! Every man is at his post, every ship is at its station. The Navy is ready. Whatever happens, the Navy is not going to be caught napping."

"Ahe things really as bad as that, Frank?" Nelson inquired.

"Every bit as bad," Knox nodded vigorously. "It can start at any minute."

"You know, if we do have to fight the Japs, I can't see that there'd be much for our Army to do," observed Nelson. "Won't it be pretty much a Navy show?"

"Oh, yes, of course," Knox agreed. "We're all ready for them, you know. We've had our plans worked out for twenty years. Once it starts, our submarines will go in to blockade them, and sooner or later our battle fleet will be able to force an action. It won't take too long. Say, about a six-months' war."

Work For Handicapped

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON—This is what is known as National-Employ-the-Physically-Handicapped week — N.E.P.H. week.

It's objective is obvious and, particularly in this postwar period, it is an objective which meets with overwhelming popular approval.

Yet curiously, if that objective is attained, it will be a very pleasant surprise to the man chiefly responsible for establishing the commemorative week—a self-confessed cynic named Paul A. Strachan.

For Strachan's fear is that, during this week, countless well-meaning people will stress emotions and sympathies, rather than education and common sense. And while the former reactions have their place in this human world, Strachan is personally quite certain that the solution to the problem of the handicapped lies along the latter route.

However legitimate the emotion, nothing permanent is solved by the mere business of feeling sorry for the handicapped, Strachan says. But he feels that something is solved when people are educated to the point where they realize that physically handicapped individuals, in comparison, are equal — and often superior to other workers in the same positions.

That's what he hopes will be stressed this week.

Actually, of course, N.E.P.H. week as established in 1945 by Public Law 176 which was passed by the Seventy-ninth Congress. It set aside the first week in October "to enlist public support for and interest in the employment of otherwise qualified but physically handicapped workers . . ."

But largely the business of getting the bill presented and passed was due to the persistent lobbying of Paul Strachan, founder and head of the American Federation of the Physically Handicapped.

His theory was that calling attention to the problem annually would help remove some of the prejudices and barriers of ignorance which now prevent thousands of physically handicapped from getting jobs they are fully qualified to handle.

And, though a World War One veteran himself, the flinty-eyed, grim-mouthed, 56-year-old Strachan stresses that the disabled veterans of the world wars represent only one of five categories of the nation's physically handicapped.

The others are persons injured in industry; persons injured in home, traffic, farm and other kinds of accidents; persons disabled by illness; and persons born with afflictions.

Ironically, at one time or another, Strachan could have been classified in almost any one of the five categories—so his understanding of the total situation is something more than academic.

* * *

Supported By Records.

DESPITE developing some occasional deeply-bitter enemies by his theory, Strachan has harped on the contention that flat handouts are of little help to the handicapped.

His hard-bitten crusade has tended rather to stress the records of those physically-handicapped persons who have taken tough jobs and succeeded at them—in open competition with non-disabled workers.

That record, compiled by various federal and industrial statisticians including the U.S. department of labor and the Veterans Administration, is excellent.

It shows that, properly placed, such individuals are at least the equal of other workers in adaptability and production.

On the other points generally considered by personnel managers in hiring and firing, the physically handicapped tend to excel. They are more careful. Their job-safety record in industry is higher. Their margin of error in business is lower.

In regularity and reliability, their record is far superior to other workers. Their absenteeism is almost negligible. They change jobs far less frequently than ordinary employes.

Finally, it is already a matter of record—and repeatedly stressed by Strachan—that there is almost no business, industrial or professional job which cannot be handled by a physically handicapped person with proper training.

Those are the points the founder of N.E.P.H. week wants to see emphasized—but he's afraid they won't be. He's afraid that the quite human trait of passing sympathy will dominate the week, blotting out the more permanent point that hiring a physically handicapped person usually is just plain good, hard-headed business!

Lightening Mailman's Load.

The post office department has ruled that the mailman's load should be limited to 35 pounds instead of 50.

The mailman has always been one of Uncle Sam's most neglected employees. Underpaid in comparison with modern labor scales, he has the weary job of seeing that "the mail must go through," regardless of the weather. The post office department is just about a century late in recognizing that the mailman is not a pack horse.—St. Louis Star-Times.

Nut-Gathering Time

By CALVIN A. BYERS

NORTH of our gravel road is light chestnut soil—thin and stony yet once productive of giant chestnut trees. Some patriarchal skeletons still stand, their naked branches and great pillared trunks bearing silent witness to the tragic blight that blasted them.

Yesterday, beside a fallen trunk, I found a little chestnut tree, a sapling with dark booster green-bark, and when I girthed it with both hands, it felt soft, resilient and live. Its long green leaves hung about my head and shoulders. The tree was ten feet tall, about three inches in diameter—a perfect tree, with no hint of blight upon it. Perhaps, who knows, it may have developed resistance—and be forerunner of a new species.

We used to go nutting on frosty October mornings. Often we gathered a half bushel of chestnuts in an hour. When seasoned for some time the meats are solid and very sweet and satisfying. But that was 50 years ago.

Ohio woods, this fall, are dropping a heavy crop of beechnuts; shellbarks and acorns are abundant; black walnut trees bear heavy pungent spheres that stain the fingers brown when the rough-coated nuts are unfrocked. Laid away to dry, they are ready to accent Thanksgiving or Christmas with their strong, delicious flavor.

Then the hazelnuts—the wild Ohio filberts—bend to offer to passersby their rich clusters in oily coverings. These, like chestnuts become sweeter as they season. A friend who grows filberts in the garden, gave me some seeds and I planted them yesterday at the end of a red raspberry row.

The seed of any fruit should be its richest part, since it contains the essence of the embryonic plant. . . .

I wonder why some good use cannot be made of the apple seeds that waste each year upon the pomace piles. When crushed and separated from the hull, they make a pleasing bitterish paste that might be valuable in a culinary artist's pantry.

The other day a friend showed me yellow oily meal and bade me taste it and tell him what it was. I guessed it right at last—the germ of wheat grains. Rich, flavorful and freshly ground it makes a healthful addition to batters or soft dough quickbreads.

SAPPHO CLUB LUNCHEON, PROGRAM OPEN SEASON

Mrs. R. F. Cox sr. Presides As Hostess When Study Group Convenes At Women's Club

THE Sappho club members met for the first time this season at a luncheon Wednesday afternoon at the Women's club. Mrs. R. F. Cox was hostess to the 28 members and one guest, Miss Marilyn Little.

Mrs. J. L. Stevens gave a book review on "American Women of Nursing," by Edna Yost. The musical part of the program consisted of a paper entitled "Bridges to the Past," delivered by Mrs. M. E. Pingel. As a supplemental illustration to the paper, Mrs. A. C. Butterfield played a piano selection by Fritz Kreisler in the style of Padre Martini. This was an example of eighteenth century music.

As a contrast Mrs. Pingel sang a Russian folk song, "Cossacks' Lullaby." This is typical of the romantic period of the nineteenth century.

Mrs. Butterfield then played Schuman's "Romance" and Mrs. Pingle sang the nineteenth century composition, "On Wings of Song," by Mendelssohn.

Mrs. C. E. Jenkins will be hostess at the next meeting, Oct. 20, at 1 p. m. at the Women's Club.

Zeta Chapter Plans Events For Season

Eleven members attended a meeting of Zeta chapter of Gamma Gamma Gamma sorority last night at the home of Mrs. Robert Meese, 994 Sunset boulevard.

Miss Evelyn Art reported on the last executive meeting. Mrs. Jack Hattman was elected representative to the executive board for Zeta chapter for joint sorority sessions.

A Halloween party was planned for October 30 in the recreation room of Mr. and Mrs. Al Baki, Taylor road. Miss Eileen Jesson was appointed chairman of the recreation and decorating committee. Chairman of the food committee is Mrs. Baki. A dance was also planned for Nov. 27 at the Leland hotel ballroom.

Refreshments were served later, and bridge was played. Prizes were won by Mrs. Nicholas Marion, Miss Charlotte Paste and Miss Evelyn Art.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Jack Hattman, October 27, at 8 p. m.

C. L. of C. Meets For Social Party

Mrs. Frank Loykovich and her committee entertained the Catholic Ladies of Columbia recently at the Knights of Columbus home.

Cards were diversion of the evening with the prizes for bridge going to Mrs. John Graf and Mrs. Raymond Straub. Five hundred prizes went to Mrs. D. H. Hurlow and Mrs. Michael Vogel. Mrs. Pasquale La Susa won the door prize.

Oct. 19 is the date for the regular business session at the Knights of Columbus home.

Hadassah Has First Meeting At Kann Home

Fifty members and guests attended a meeting of Hadassah group yesterday at the home of Mrs. William Kann, 625 Bigelow road.

Mrs. Jerome Rosenberg, president, presided at the meeting and also acted as associate hostess.

Mrs. Roy Stone, of Columbus, was guest speaker. She is a prominent worker in Hadassah groups throughout the midwest.

Refreshments were served later and the scheme of decoration was fall colors and flowers.

The next meeting will be a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Al Gordon, Woodhill road, Nov. 3, at 1 p. m. Mrs. Libby Braverman, of Cleveland, will be the guest speaker.

Garden Group Organizes

Mrs. Herman Wiler, 158 Western avenue, was hostess Wednesday evening to members of the newly-organized garden group of the Colony club. Nine were present. Plans were made for further organization and the program for the season discussed. Mrs. A. H. Baerren was named in charge of publicity and Mrs. Wiler will be scrapbook chairman.

The group spent the evening making program covers. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Howard Clark, 71 Parkwood boulevard, with Mrs. Clarence Preble as associate hostess.

Circle Three Hears Dr. Mabie

Forty members and guests were entertained at a meeting of Circle Three at the Park avenue Baptist church with Mrs. Robert Small, president, conducted the business meeting.

Devotions were led by Jean Turner and Mary Ann Taylor. The topic of the guest speaker Dr. Katherine Mabie, of Granville, was "The Belgian Congo." Other guests from Granville were Dr. and Mrs. W. Geil.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. R. Small, Mrs. Marjorie Skinner, Mrs. Edward Guilkey and Mrs. Roy Stump. Mrs. W. M. Taylor and Mrs. Charles Lake presided at the table which was decorated with candles and chrysanthemums.

DORCAS BIBLE CLUB

The Dorcas Bible club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. S. T. Burrows, Emerald avenue. Thirteen members answered roll call with scripture verses. Mrs. J. N. Ritter led devotions. Mrs. Charles Kafer gave an interesting reading on the first chapter of Romans. Mrs. Jack Towne was the only guest present. Mrs. Jay Chubbs, Cook road, will be the hostess for the next meeting.

St. John's Guild Plans For Northwest District Meeting

ST. JOHN'S Guild met in regular session Wednesday at the church with Mrs. Henry Fiedler as program chairman. The topic for discussion was "The Christian Woman and National Missions Work of Her Church," in charge of Mrs. Clara Leopold and Mrs. Emma Campbell.

Mrs. Charles Finfgeld gave the scripture and "Thank Offering," a paper written by Mrs. John Melchert, was given by Mrs. W. E. Post.

Announcement was made that Mrs. John Melchert was named president for a two year term for the northwest Ohio Synodical Women's Guild. Plans were discussed for the guild members to serve the noon and evening meals Oct. 14 at the church when the northwest Ohio Synodical meeting is held here. Four hundred are expected to attend. Mrs. Clarence Garver was named a delegate to this meeting.

Reports were given on the guild meeting held in September at Upper Sandusky by Mrs. Pauline Black. The meeting was closed by prayer given by Mrs. Harry Harbeson.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. William Auer, Mrs. Cramer, Mrs. Clarence Fisher, Mrs. Harry Frietchen, Mrs. Jack Fisher and Mrs. Dora Garver. The next meeting will be held Nov. 3 at the church with a dessert luncheon served at 1 p. m.

MISS CHARLOTTE FAYE BROBST

Announcement is being made of the engagement of Charlotte Faye Brobst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl D. Brobst, 437 Park avenue west, to David H. Miller, son of Mrs. Margaret M. Miller and the late Ross W. Miller, 222 High School court. Miss Brobst graduated from Crestline high school and is employed in the safety-deposit department of The Farmers Savings and Trust company. Mr. Miller attended Mansfield schools and is employed as a retail milkman for Page's Dairy. The wedding will be an event of early November.

Mrs. Henry Davis, 458 Davey avenue, and Mrs. Garrett Mapes, 508 Beethoven street, recently attended the golden wedding anniversary of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Simms, of Ashland. Fifty relatives and friends from Ashland, Mansfield and the surrounding vicinity attended. The home was decorated with many floral bouquets and a white wedding cake, trimmed with gold, was served with ice cream and coffee. Mr. and Mrs. Simms, who were married October 6, 1898, are the parents of five children. The four, who are now living, are Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Mapes of Mansfield, and Mrs. Harold Jarvis and Monroe Simms, of near Mifflin. They also have six grandchildren.

The Nomads Hold Meeting At Westbrook

The Nomads met for a 1 o'clock luncheon meeting at the Westbrook Country club yesterday with Mrs. Ralph O. Wise as hostess. Eighteen members and five guests attended.

Mrs. Edward D. Gibson presided at the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. A. W. Meihack. A paper was read on women's magazines, entitled "They're Better Than You Think," by Mrs. John Finefrock jr., program chairman. This was followed by a general discussion.

The next meeting will be a luncheon, October 20, at the Country club at which time the group will be guests of the Wednesday Study club. Spencer D. Irwin, a columnist for the Cleveland Plain Dealer, will be the guest speaker.

Anniversary Party Held

Neighborhood Bible club members observed their 13th anniversary Wednesday with a luncheon at 1 o'clock at the Women's Club. Mrs. J. E. Smith, president, conducted the meeting. Mrs. Frank Bair attended as a guest.

Mrs. Robert Morris led the lesson study, taken from the 16th chapter of Acts. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. George Kochenderfer. The next meeting on Oct. 20 will be held at the home of Mrs. C. E. Frankeberger, Parkwood boulevard.

Blue Star Mothers Meet, Have Dinner

The Blue Star Mothers of Fred C. Harrington chapter, No. 4, met recently in the clubrooms for a covered-dish dinner. The long table was decorated with fall flowers.

After the dinner a short business meeting was held with the president, Mrs. J. M. Simpson, opening it by singing America and giving the salute to the flag. Plans were made for the Blue Star convention to be held in Detroit at the Book Cadillac hotel. It will be held Oct. 24, 25, 26, 27 and 28.

The club will have a bake sale at the Third street market Oct. 15.

The next meeting will be Oct. 19 in the clubrooms.

Legion Mothers Club Honors Three Guests and Members

MEMBERS of the Mothers club of the American Legion auxiliary met Wednesday evening at the Legion home for a covered dish dinner and regular business session.

Three guests, Mrs. Dwight McCullough, newly elected president of the Legion auxiliary, Mrs. James Brownscombe, past president of the Legion auxiliary, and Mrs. Charles Fiegenbaum, were present.

Mrs. Clara Ruddock won the attendance prize. Mrs. McCullough won the guest prize.

Mrs. Elma Stickler and Mrs. Fiegenbaum were each presented with a gift for their birthdays.

Mrs. Ruddock was appointed chairman of the Mothers club for the following year by Mrs. McCullough.

Refreshments were served from a table centered with an arrangement of burnt orange dahlias. Mrs. Stickler cut the birthday cake presented to the two honored guests.

After dinner the members knotted a comfort.

The next meeting will be at the Legion home Oct. 20. It will be an all day session.

Ross Home Scene Of Library Meeting

The Library committee of the Women of the Moose met at the home of Mrs. Mary Ross, Wyandotte avenue, with Mrs. Ralph Lee as associate hostess.

Twelve members and two guests, Mrs. Dave Cameron and Miss Emily Ross, were present. Mrs. John Spiker, chairman, conducted the meeting.

A bake sale will be held in November and chapter night will be Nov. 17. Plans were made for the booth at the bazaar to be held Nov. 10.

The club prize was won by Mrs. William Keller, and contest prizes were won by Mrs. Dallas Tupps, Mrs. Spiker, Mrs. Kirk Ricks, Mrs. Mary Ross and Mrs. Harold Hill. Luncheon was served by the hostesses later in the evening.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 2 at the home of Mrs. Frank Clements, Walker street. Mrs. Kirk Ricks will assist.

William Schultz Speaks to Group

The Women of the Moose met Wednesday for a regular business session at the Moose Home. Forty-one members were in attendance.

William Schultz from Lumbermans Mutual Insurance company gave an interesting talk on fire prevention.

Plans were made at this time to charter a bus to go to Columbus Sunday, Oct. 31. The Women of the Moose will sponsor a bazaar on Nov. 10 to be open to the public.

The next meeting will be Mooseheart chapter night. It will be closed and formal on Oct. 20 at the Moose home.

P. E. O. Meets For Ritual At Clines

P. E. O. Sisterhood members opened their fall and winter season Wednesday with a ritual meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Russell Cline, Glessner avenue. Miss Luella Carter served as associate hostess.

Fourteen members and one guest, Mrs. W. M. Taylor, were present. Luncheon was served at noon from a table centered with purple fall flowers.

Mrs. Cline presided for the business session and the ritual was conducted by the officers.

On Oct. 20 Mrs. William Hazeltine, Davis road, will entertain the group. A musicale will be presented at that time by Mrs. George Hall and Miss Louise Krause.

City Heights Club Plans Parties

The City Heights club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Arthur Lotz, 278 Myers avenue. Mrs. Harry Thierlein, president, conducted the meeting.

Mrs. Earl Leininger was appointed chairman of the Christmas party. Refreshments were served later in the evening. Mrs. H. A. Trease was in charge of entertainment.

The next meeting, at which the election of officers will take place, will be a Thanksgiving party at the home of Mrs. Harry Thierlein, 62 Bentley avenue.

Society Discusses Zanesville Meeting

The Women's Missionary society of the First Lutheran church met yesterday afternoon with 40 members in attendance. Mrs. I. F. Perry, president, conducted the meeting.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Harry Sullivan, and the topic, entitled "Christian Frontiers," was given by Miss Nell Kern. Mrs. Valentine Wolf reviewed the book, "China, Twilight or Dawn."

Plans were made for the convention to be held at Zanesville October 18 and 19. The next regular meeting will be held Nov. 3.

Miss Strohminger Becomes Bride of Eugene Reader

THE Rev. Arthur F. Lindbeck officiated for the single ring ceremony of Miss Elaine E. Strohminger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Hedges, 203 East First street, and Eugene E. Reader, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Reader, 324 Chester avenue. The nuptials were exchanged Sept 25 at 3:30 p. m. in the parsonage of the Mayflower Congregational church.

The bride wore a light grey suit with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Mrs. Katherine Hedges, sister-in-law of the bride, wore a grey suit with black accessories. She also had a white carnation corsage.

Eugene H. Hedges, brother of the bride, served as best man.

After their honeymoon to Cleveland Mr. and Mrs. Reader have been residing at 324 Chester avenue.

The bride is employed at the Dominion Electric company and Mr. Reader is an employe of the Westinghouse Electric corporation.

Proctor Home Scene Of Bible Class

The Findley-Anderson Bible class of the United Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. Fred Proctor, 604 Highland avenue, for a regular business session Wednesday.

Mrs. Proctor led the devotions for the afternoon. Roll call was answered by scripture verses beginning with the letter "R."

Refreshments were served buffet style from a table centered with garden flowers.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Frank Wilson, 667 Highland avenue, Nov. 3.

Reminiscence Club Meets In Lexington

Reminiscence club members met at the home of Mrs. Ralph Domer, Lexington, Wednesday afternoon. Associate hostesses were Mrs. Lester Ramey and Mrs. Lloyd Domer. Luncheon was served at noon after which games were the diversion. Prizes were won by Mrs. A. A. Turner, Mrs. Beatrice Zeigler, Mrs. R. H. Noss and Mrs. C G Steel.

The next meeting will be Nov. 3 at the home of Mrs. Ernest Phillips, 233 Sheridan avenue, with Mrs Turner as associate hostess.

E. T. Club Entertained

Fourteen members and one guest, Mrs. Helen Hasenzahl, 251 Glessner, attended a meeting of the E. T. club at the home of Mrs. Tom Woodard, South Main street.

After the business meeting, which was conducted by Miss Jenny Remy, chairman, games were played. Prizes were won by Mrs. Tunis Dillon, Mrs. Albert Krumm, Miss Mary Beilstein, Mrs. Fred Mansfield and Miss Jesse Eckert.

Luncheon was served later, and a variety of garden flowers decorated the house.

The next meeting will be held October 19, at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Andrew Herring, Rae avenue.

Auxiliary Names Three For Committee

The Charles Dick auxiliary of the United Spanish War veterans met at Memorial hall with Mrs. Elizabeth Harter, president, conducting the meeting.

Mrs. A. L. Blakely, Mrs. William Reed and Mrs. B. C. Sommerville were appointed to serve with members of the Memorial day association. Mrs. Andrew Hiedinger gave a report on the proceeds from the rummage sale, and Mrs. Georgia Bell, secretary, read the general orders from departments.

Preceeding the meeting, the Marquis circle served a covered-dish dinner. The circle will meet October 13, at Memorial hall for an afternoon of quilting.

The next regular meeting of the auxiliary will be held October 19, at 7:30 p. m., at the hall.

FBI Checks Rep. Thomas

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—The justice department has ordered the FBI to investigate the manner in which Rep. J. Parnell Thomas, (R-NJ), has run his congressional office, it was learned today.

The inquiry stemmed from charges by Columnist Drew Pearson that Thomas, who heads the House unAmerican activities committee, was requiring his office employes to "kickback" some of their salaries to him.

The FBI, it was learned, has been asked to determine whether any violation of federal law is involved.

The order for the inquiry was understood to have the personal approval of Attorney General Tom C. Clark. He has been waging a running battle with Thomas over the unAmerican activities committee's investigation of wartime Soviet espionage.

The FBI refused to confirm or deny that the investigation was under way.

155 New Home Units Started In 8 Months

Buildings Valued at $1,485,000

Business Building Permits Doubled

Residential building in Mansfield is on the upswing, an analysis of building permits issued during the first eight months of 1948 revealed today.

Through August, permits for 138 new buildings, with an estimated total value of $1,485,900 were issued. As several of these structures were multiple units, 155 new family dwelling units were started during the first eight months of the year.

Last year, a total of 154 residential building permits were issued, with a total valuation of $1,337,350, but providing only 159 family dwelling units.

Although 15 fewer permits were issued during the first eight months of this year than in all of 1947, the 1948 valuation already exceeds the 1947 total This increased valuation reflects the rise in building costs

From the permit statistics, it is certain that the actual number of family units constructed this year will exceed the 1947 total.

In the field of commercial building, 94 permits were issued during the first eight months of this year as compared with 52 during all of last year.

But despite the fact that nearly twice as many new commercial permits have been issued already this year the total valuation is only $1,291,650 as compared with $2,040,251 for the total of 52 units last year

Major non-residential building construction begun this year included the West Fifth street school, the Independent Towel and Supply company plant at Grant street and Longview avenue, the Friendly house and the new Mansfield Rapid Transit, Inc, bus terminal

US death rates from transport accidents rose only slightly from 1911 to 1946 In the same period death rates from other types of accidents were reduced sharply.

Both Parties Seek Young Voters' Aid

Ten Million Eligible to Vote

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Democrats and Republicans are wooing young voters this year as never before.

They estimate that 10,000,000 will be eligible to cast their first presidential ballot Nov. 2.

That total represents a rich prize in a presidential election, so each party is striving to get the new voters enrolled in its ranks. Each claims it will win over the majority of the first-time balloters.

The Democrats say they are waging bigger-than-ever organizing drives right down to the counties and precincts.

The Republicans are putting the accent on college voters. The GOP also is planting future vote crops in a previously-unworked field — the "pre-voter" or teen-ager who will be eligible to vote when another presidential year comes along.

Ralph E. Becker, Port Chester, N. Y., attorney who is chairman of the Young Republican National federation, said the teen-age movement is just getting started. He predicts big things for it in the months and years ahead.

Alexander Lankler, 20-year-old son of GOP Presidential Nominee Thomas E. Dewey's minister at Pawling, N. Y., is the mainspring of the movement. He's spreading the idea over New York and New Jersey. It has caught on in several other states.

While they can't vote the Republican teen-agers do errands at headquarters, serve as baby-sitters for campaign workers and drive voters to the polls.

Group to Hear Talk on U. N.

Members of the Mansfield City Teachers association will hear Superintendent of Schools, W. L. Miller talk about "A Look at the United Nations' when they meet at John Simpson junior high school next Monday.

The meeting will start at 3:50 p. m. in charge of Raymond Dent, association president.

Also on the program will be W. O. Leedy, a member of the board of education, who will talk on the proposed $2,250,000 school bond issue, which will be put before the voters this fall.

A three-year candidate for the post of delegate to the Ohio Educational Association conventions is up for election. Candidates are Miss Mildred Shively, Carpenter school teacher and C. A. Divelbiss principal at Woodland school. The successful candidate will represent the Mansfield association at the Columbus convention this winter.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys
If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matters stay in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there's something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills. —Adv.

Parolee Finds Prices Too High, Heads Back to Prison

INDIANAPOLIS — (INS) — Walter C. Seward, who has spent 33 of his 54 years in the Michigan City State prison, is going back there at his own request.

Seward, a parolee, said that the high cost of living outside the prison walls was too much for him.

The parolee was in the Marion county jail at Indianapolis today, awaiting return to the state prison, which he first entered in April, 1915, to serve a life term for the slaying of a Hendricks county man in a fight over a girl.

Seward yesterday told the Indiana division of correction that the $25-a-week-and-board job with an Indianapolis tree nursery, which the division offered him, would not pay his expenses. He offered to work for $50 a week, but declared: "I couldn't keep from violating my parole on just $25 a week."

Harvey L. Hire, director of the division of correction, arranged for Seward to be returned to the state prison.

RESIGNS HOLMES POST

Mrs. Kasenkina's Story—No. 12

Red Officials Flee As Germans Come In

By OKSANA S. KASENKINA

My son went off to become a soldier at the moment of the greatest peril to Moscow. It was a moment when the love of Russia stirred in many hearts despite the hatred they had harbored for the Soviet regime. The Communist propaganda knew how to exploit the patriotic upsurge of the people Oleg, too, was eager to come to the defense of the fatherland, but I hoped that he would first get adequate training in the Red Army.

"Mamochka, how will I know where you're going to be?" he asked at parting.

"And I won't know where to reach you, Olya," I cried. We arranged that I would try to make my way to Gorki, formerly Nizhni-Novgorod, where one of my sisters was living, and that we should keep in touch through her.

Until the last hour, when the Germans were already within artillery range and when rumors of the evacuation of Moscow were flying thick and fast, I clung to our school. I could not bear the thought of abandoning it to the invaders. The last Communist officials to leave reproached me for showing such sentimentality.

"Go and join the partisans," was their farewell shot to me. I had never handled a rifle.

The head of one neighborhood village Soviet tried to persuade me to remain behind and await the Germans. "Why are you leaving?" he argued. "They won't last where you're going." This peasant had even disobeyed the government order to drive the stock of the collective farm into the interior. Instead he turned all the cattle loose.

Three years later I revisited Tuchkovo, and to my horror found nothing but rubble and ruins where the school had once been. The elaborate mansion housing the fine library and museum, and all the other buildings had been burned to the ground, with the exception of one corner of the brick structure.

I found Ossipova, a former resident still there, had turned all white. She told me that the Red Army had taken over after my departure, and set fire to the institution, in accordance with Stalin's scorched earth policy, at the approach of the Germans.

From other folks who had survived the occupation I heard tales of German atrocities. The people who remained behind were decimated, maltreated and robbed by the German "liberators" as they had never been even by the loathed Communists.

LEARNS OF FATE

Subsequently I encountered a colonel who upon discovering that I had taught at Tuchkovo, remarked nonchalantly:

"So that's where you lived, eh? I put the torch to it myself. That was some collection of books you had there."

But I never really anticipated such an end on the day October 15, 1941, when I started out in the direction of Moscow. At three o'clock that morning six of us teachers left our school, each carrying a bundle of essential belongings. The already wintry sky was alive with fiery activity. The Germans were reported to have enveloped Moscow from three sides. They were directly behind us.

Our party split up and at 6 o'clock three of us crossed the Moskva River and reached the suburban station of Kubinka. From there we got to Moscow by tram.

I had virtually no money, and went with one of my companions to report to the Commissariat of Education in the building of the Moscow Soviet. After some interviews and conferences with aides to Commissar Potemkin, I was assigned to a teaching post in the city of Barnaul, in western Siberia. I was then told.

"Come early tomorrow morning for traveling expenses."

That day the sky of Moscow was filled with smoke from the burning of confidential archives in innumerable government quarters. The wind whirled charred papers in the air. Everybody saw that the Communist bureaucrats were in a state of panic. Many openly expected the end of Soviet rule.

Towards evening there was an air raid alarm. We ran to the nearest shelter in the subway at the Byeloruss station. There we spent the night. The following morning, we made our way to the Commissariat of Education. Outside there were automobiles loaded with trunks and cases. None of the officials was inside. Commissar Potemkin and all his aides and staff had fled.

Overnight a tremendous change had come over Moscow. Directors of factories and heads of departments had emptied their treasuries, commandeered cars, and fled eastward. Workers and employes were abandoned to their fate. Only the building superintendent remained in the Moscow Soviet.

GET 150 RUBLES

"We have no money," my companion and I cried, explaining that we had received our appointments and had been told to come in the morning for traveling funds. The old man shook his head, waved his arm in the direction in which all the big shots were escaping, and took pity upon us two women. He gave us all he could spare, 150 rubles each with the advice:

"Go as far as you can with this."

During the next few days, while I was trying to locate a train bound for Gorki, the center of Moscow took on the aspect of a deserted city, except for marching army units. Occasionally one heard the explosion of a bomb and the roar of a collapsing structure. On the highways leading out of the city ruthless measures were being taken to stop in their tracks looters who were fleeing with caravans of goods. The booty would be taken away and the plunderers shot on the spot.

To add to the nightmare, barricades were being thrown up on the main arteries in the outlying districts through which the Germans were expected to advance upon the city. Barrels, overturned street cars, furniture, all kinds of wreckage were piled into these hasty and primitive defenses.

On October 20, when old-timer residents were convinced that Moscow was as good as taken by the Germans, I got close enough to a train scheduled to leave for Gorki, and was swept onto its platform by the surge of a frenzied mob. It was a human anthill, with people clinging to the roofs and windows of the cars. Wedged in the passageway between two end platforms, I somehow managed to reach Gorki, some 300 miles away.

My sister astounded me upon my arrival with the announcement that Oleg had already been there looking for me.

Flying In and Out of Mansfield

Mt. Gilead Firm Uses City Port as Base

The Mahoney Construction Co. recently moved its base of opeer-ations from the Mansfield-Bellville area to Mt. Gilead. It is still using Mansfield Municipal airport, however, for company transportation to the home office in Mt. Pleasant, Mich.

Samuel S. Everett made his commercial course long solo cross country to Washington, D. C. over the weekend. On the way to Washington he was forced to fly considerably south of his course to avoid a low overcast that was moving in from the northeast. Upon his arrival in Washington, the weather for the return trip looked questionable, so Sam decided to stay with friends overnight. He returned tto Mansfield the next morning.

Other recent cross country flights:

George Geib, Lloyd Amato, Art Schreck and Robert Wagenhals flew to Dayton on business and stopped off for a meal in Urbana on the return trip.

Andrew Scheurer and instructor Wilbur Shafer flew to Wheeling, W. Va., to pick up a rush shipment that Scheurer needed to complete a building construction job.

Instructor Dale Ropp jr., made a night charter flight to Toledo and return. His passenger was E. W. Craig, of Toledo.

★

Dr. and Mrs. M. D. Harnly and son David, flew to Columbus Sunday for dinner.

★

Peter G. Ross and Harold Funk received their private Pilot ratings and Curtis M. Bradford received his Commercial Pilot rating from CAA examiner A. Clayton Tschantz.

Virgil W. Morgan, Chief Communicator of CAA, has just returned from an extended vacation trip in the New England states where he had been visiting with relatives. He reported a very enjoyable vacation except the below-normal cold weather in that area, while he was there.

★

The spectators at the model airplane meet held at Municipal airon Sunday seemed to enjoy the thrilling model exhibitions immensely. The entrants had considerable difficulty starting the engines of their planes because of the cold weather. They had even more trouble keeping their models flying in the gusty wind. There were six crack-ups during the day, including three that were damaged beyond repair.

'Dead' Woman Restored to Legal Life

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Mrs. Mina Harmon, 97-year-old resident of a Los Angeles rest home, is being restored to legal life.

In a strange mixup of names, her will had been admitted to probate and her brother-in-law had been named executor of her estate, by order of Franklin County Probate Judge C. P. McClelland.

Judge McClelland yesterday cancelled the orders when he learned that it was Mrs. Martha Harmon and not Mrs. Mina Harmon who died. This, he said, is what happened.

He appointed Max Harmon of Columbus, Mrs. Mina Harmon's brother-in-law, her guardian in 1941, just before she went to the Los Angeles rest home to end her days. She was then 90.

Mrs. Harmon arranged with a funeral director there to cremate her body when she died and to send the ashes back here for burial beside her husband's grave.

In September, Harmon was notified by the funeral director that his sister-in-law had died. The ashes were shipped here, scheduled to be buried yesterday.

In closing the affairs of her estate, Harmon wrote and asked the rest home if she left any unpaid bills.

The reply came that Mrs. Mina Harmon was "alive, well and happy."

Hold It--Folks!

War Might Begin, or Might Not-That's Only Answer to Question

MEMOS TO ALL EDITORS — Letter from Washington: "There is nothing new about World War 3. Nobody believes it is imminent, they say, but I'll be damb'd if I know what they base it on. Washington is jittery as hell. Much soul-searching, but it all comes out hopeless. The only intelligent ray of hope I have heard (and this is snatching at straws) comes to me from a very intelligent East European exile. He wrote me: 'The Russians are better informed than we think about the American election. They may over-estimate Wallace's following but feel sure Dewey will win . . . So, they say, why bargain with a crowd that will be out in a few months—then have to face Dewey, who could say: "I made no agreements. I don't like the deal and out it goes!"

"If they figure this—the present tough attitude now is to get them in tough negotiating shape next year when they meet across the table with Dewey . . . I hope this is right only because it gives us all something to live for . . . I think another war finishes the world and I don't see how we can settle this quarrel without one. But, as you know, I have felt this hopeless way ever since my years abroad. In the meanwhile, they will wreck the UN and Europe.

★

"Here are some items: The Chinese Ambassador has informed the White House that unless Chiang Kai-shek gets help and very soon —his gov't will collapse, perhaps in 90 days to 6 months . . . If Dewey gets in, the new FCC chief may be Robert Jones, Republican Congressman from Ohio . . . Tell the Wall Street papers that a mysterious Argentine banker named Maroglio is in New York (or was) and that Latin-American dollar deposits are the largest accounts in N.Y. banks . . . The striking power of our air force is now 14 times greater than at the end of the war . . . The Democrats' attack on Dewey's pardon of Lucky Luciano will flop. All top gov't lawyers know Luciano was used (at the request of Federal authorities) to help organize the underground for the Sicily invasion."

The new tough policy shown by the Western Powers in Paris is merely the opening act of a planned campaign to break the arrogance of European diplomacy . . . Blueprinted by Secy of State Marshall and Bevin of London—it has enlisted the support of all Western Europe from Narvik to the tip of Sicily . . . Now that this campaign has been launched THERE CAN BE NO TURNING BACK—not again . . . THE showdown on the blockade of our Berlin sectors will come late next month or early December when Western Powers will demand a Yes or No answer from Stalin in just that many words . . . The promotion of Gen. Montgomery (to lead the armies of Great Britain, France, Belgium, etc.) is for the purpose of ensuring that the line of the Rhine will be heavily defended in the event Stalin decides to gamble.

Diplomatic insiders expect that Stalin will try to hedge at this showdown bw lifting the blockade . . . At the same time he will ask for another Potsdam Conference—this time with Mr. Dewey (if he is elected), accompanied by President Truman . . . By using the election of Dewey (as an excuse for calling the conference) Stalin can then save a certain amount of face.

★

War emergency orders are written and ready . . . Congress would be summoned at once to declare war and pass war measures . . . Action against enemy targets could be under way in a matter of minutes . . . The Government isn't taking any risk that the other fellow's gun isn't loaded . . . Many diplomats say they believe war will not come this year. They wouldn't be diplomats if they said otherwise. . . . . But all are agreed that it would be fantastic to believe that it couldn't come within the hour.

New Epic Must Draw $9,000,000 Before Film Builds Up a Profit

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Walter Wanger has to sell $9,000,000 worth of tickets to a single movie — "Joan of Arc."

This chore doesn't seem to worry the producer. In fact, he seemed more concerned about one of his actors who sprained an ankle at tennis before the last day of filming on a current Wanger picture. About his high-cost film, he said blandly:

"If it makes as much as 'Jolson Story' or 'Best Years,' we'll show a profit. That shouldn't be too hard. Look at the success of 'King of Kings,' 'The Ten Commandments,' 'Song of Bernadette,' 'Sign of the Cross.'"

Like the last-named films, Wanger's is a story of faith. Ingrid Bergman, who did "Joan" on the stage two seasons back, plays the title role. No quickie is it.

★

The shooting ran up a bill of around $4,000,000—maybe a little more and perhaps a little less—which is a whopping sum in these shaky days.

Advertising and the cost of prints will swell the total by another million. What with distribution costs, the cut for the theaters, etc., "Joan" will have to pull nine mill(that's the way Hollywood expresses it, at the box-office before it shows a profit.

Wanger, who has long hewn the independent production path, likes to point out that it took an independent to make such a large-scale (and chancy) film.

"We have the largest bank loan ever made for a picture—$3,500,000 from Banker's Trust." (Interest alone is $20,000 monthly. Another reason the film has to show a profit—and soon.)

"I feel the industry has to make pictures of this scale to get people back in the theaters."

However, he admitted the chances of more epics are doubtful. The banks probably wouldn't grant such a big loan again to an independent, and the big studios are afraid to make the outlay.

Wanger is leaving on a trip to plan nation-wide openings of his picture. Also, he is working on other film activities. His phone rang every few minutes and he talked to or about such figures as Howard (Hughes), Peter (Rathvon) and Jesse (Lasky).

★

"I have pictures with Bergman, Garbo, Susan Hayward and Joan (Bennett, his wife)," he sighed.

"Sometimes I think I'm a cartel,"

Production Seen Key To Prosperity

Industrial Leader Talks to Bankers

The economic welfare of the nation depends upon increased production, Arthur C. Horrocks, of Akron, told the annual meeting of Group 6 of the Ohio Bankers' association in Mansfield last night.

Horrocks, public relations counsel for the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, delivered the main address at a dinner meeting of 350 Ohio bankers and their wives at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Warning of the danger of defeatism, he urged the group to "raise your sights."

The only way to plenty is increased production with lower unit costs so that everyone can afford to buy the nation's goods, he asserted.

Praising the productive capacities of the United States, Horrock said, "So far in history nothing has equalled the American free enterprise system," but he warned against resting on past accomplishments.

"We have to look ahead. We cannot look to yesterday's deeds to find standards for tomorrow. Our hearts must become conditioned to service. We must try to get men to find good moral values," he declared.

GANGWARE RETAINED

At a business meeting earlier in the day, members of the association re-elected E. B. Gangware, of Sandusky, as vice chairman of Group 6, and E. W. Stiffler, of Ashland, as secretary-treasurer.

State Treasurer Don Ebright, a guest at the meeting, was introduced and spoke a few words of greeting.

William B. Kuhn of Shelby, chairman of Group 6, presided at the dinner meeting.

The other speakers were Ralph P. Dixon, persident of the Ohio Bankers' association, who talked on banking problems of the past, present, and future; H. E. Cook, director and vice chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, who talked of the record of the FDIC, and David M. Auch, executive manager of the Ohio Bankers' association, who talked of the new government regulations pertaining to banking, and the necessity for training young men for executive positios.

Music for the dinner was provided by the Accordionettes, from the Smart studio.

Senior High '49ers' Pick Thomas Swisher

Thomas Swisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Swisher, Mansfield, R. D. 1, is the new president of the senior class at Mansfield Senior high school.

Swisher's election was announced yesterday at assembly following a spirited campaign conducted nounced yesterday at assembly following a spirited campaign conducted along the lines of the national presidential battles.

Tom, as he is known to classmates got 177 of the total of 323 votes cast in the election. Elected with him were David Wappner as vice president; Jean A. Robinson, treasurer; Norma Touby, secretary, and executive committee members, Emily Stephan, Despina Nickas, Marilyn Bell, Norma McCally, Betty Garver, Douglas Black, Dick Rohleder, Dick VanVoorhis, Charles Au and Robert Perez.

The senior class will be known as "The 49ers," the name chosen over "Supersonic Seniors."

The assemly hour opened yesterday with Phil Bolin, junior president, in charge. He announced the lucky candidates and obligated them into office.

TESTS ANNOUNCED

Glenn Rohleder, principal of Senior high school, announced the first of a series of scholarship tests for senior class members. The first of these, he said, will be the Pepsi-Cola contest, in which 103 awards of four-year college scholarships will be given.

Since each school participating is allowed a seven per cent entry from the senior class, 25 seniors will be eligible to take the examinations. They will be chosen by their classmates.

Miss Martha Weimer, senior class adviser, explained the procedure that had been followed in this year's election. It was patterned after a major political parties' campaign plan, with two parties, the Supersonics and the Prospectors, each nominating candidates for class offices. Ballots were prepared and distributed among the seniors, with "write-in" privileges granted.

Invocation for the program was given by Dick VanVoorhis. Rohleder closed the assembly by congratulating the class on its "fair and impartial" election and wishing them good luck for the year.

BAKERY RECOGNIZED

Blake's Pastry shop, 12 South Main street, got a bouquet of verbal orchids in this month's issue of the "Vitality News," a merchandising publication for the baking industry. The Blake shop was praised for its recent remodeling job and its excellent sales technique.

★

CLASSES OPEN—

Now that gardening and canning seasons are about over, the foreign-born residents of Mansfield are being urged to attend the English classes held twice each week at Friendly House, where they may learn to read and write English and join in conversational classes. These classes are under the direction of Miss Anne Leipziger, social welfare worker for the Veterans Administration, and have been highly successful for the past few years. Instruction is given from 7 to 9 p. m. each of the two evenings designated. Application may be made at Friendly House for attendance at these classes, Mrs. Mary Gimbel said.

MAKES HAY, TOO—

Boris Goldovsky, who charmed the audience at the first of the Civic Music programs last night, is just as interesting and agreeable off stage as he is on, according to Mr. and Mrs. David Culler of Lucas. Goldovsky, who has visited the Culler home a number of times and even helped pitch hay during the haying season, came in yesterday afternoon and was at the Culler home for dinner. "He's such a lot of fun," Mrs. Culler said last night at the concert. "We enjoy him so much when he comes to visit us."

CIO Backs Chest Drive

The Richland County Council of the C. I. O. endorsed the Community Chest drive at its regular meeting held last night, according to James L. Young, president of the council.

The council is made up of rubber, steel and electrical workers of Mansfield.

The industrial drive of the Community Chest campaign will get underway Oct. 11.

Heading the industrial divisions are Robert Myers and W. F. McCartney, William Mabee, Roy Waxler, Frank Wetzel and Roy Phillips.

There are more than 16,000 industrial workers in Mansfield. These workers, the corporations and salaried employes contribute approximately 60 per cent of the total goal of the Community Chest, according to Mrs. Jane Williams, executive secretary of the Community Chest.

The regular drive of the Community Chest, headed by Willis F. Carto, general chairman, will begin Oct. 18.

Dems, GOP Step Up Campaign In Area

This fall's local political campaign gets underway in earnest Friday night when Rep. Joseph W. Martin jr., of Massachusetts, speaker of the House of Representatives addresses a Republican district rally here.

The GOP rally will start at 8 p. m. in John Simpson junior high auditorium, and James V. Will, chairman of the Republican executive committee estimated the expected attendance at more than 1,000 persons.

Martin will be introduced by Rep. J. Harry McGregor of this district. The principal address will be made by Martin. State candidates will speak briefly and county and district candidates will be introduced.

State candidates appearing on the program will be Attorney General Hugh S. Jenkins, Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel, State Treasurer Don Ebright, and Lt. Gov. Paul Herbert.

Judge Robert M. Putnam, of the Fifth District Court of Appeals, will speak on candidates seeking judgeships on the State Supreme court. State Senator Ralph A. Winter of this district will speak.

SIX COUNTIES REPRESENTED

The chairmen of the Republican executive and central committees of the six counties of this 17th Ohio Congressional district will be introduced, as will county candidates.

Martin will arrive in Mansfield about 5 p. m. Friday from Hammond, Ind. where he speaks tonight, and will remain in Mansfield overnight.

Martin served as permanent chairman of the Republican national convention in Philadelphia last June. He has been speaker of the House since January 1947.

Martin also was permanent chairman of the Republican national convention in 1924. He is a former chairman of the Republican national committee.

Martin is the publisher of a newspaper in the town where he was born and still lives, the North Attleboro (Mass.) Evening Chronicle.

He has served as a Massachusetts state representative and senator, delegate to Republican national conventions, presidential elector, and on various positions on the national Republican committee.

WILLARD — President Truman will make his formal bid for Ohio votes Monday when he launches an intensive whirlwind drive in Willard.

It will be the first stop in a state-wide tour of Ohio industrial centers.

J. T. Hogsett, chairman of the Huron county Democratic party, announced today that the Presiwent would make a brief address from the rear of his special train in Willard at 4:30 p. m.

That night, he said, President Truman will deliver a major campaign address in Akron's Rubber Bowl.

On hand to welcome the President in Akron will be Democratic party delegations from many Ohio counties, including Crawford, Summit, Stark, Cuyahoga, Wayne, Medina, Lorain, Richland, Ashland, Tuscarawas, Portage and Mahoning.

Summit county Democratic leader Clarence C. Motz announced that a "packed house of 40,000 will greet the President at the Rubber Bowl." Both Margaret and Mrs. Truman will accompany the President.

STOPS AT WILLARD

The presidential party will stop to pick up the Akron reception committee at Willard, where Mr. Truman is slated to deliver a rear platform talks from the 17-car presidential special train.

Meanwhile, it was learned that various Democratic women's organizations were planning a reception for Mrs. Truman and her daughter during the Ohio tour.

Today, Mr. Truman carries his whirlwind campaign into the industrial centers of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, using the Taft-Hartley law as the springboard for new attacks on Republican labor policy.

The chief executive set the keynote for his bid for eastern labor vote last night in an address in Philadelphia's convention hall.

Today will see the chief executive deliver eight speeches, climaxed by an address tonight in the traditional Democratic stronghold of Jersey City, N. J.

Yesterday's campaign through Philadelphia produced the first egg-throwing incident of the President's re-election tours.

While the chief executive was riding through the Quaker City, an egg struck the gas tank of a motorcycle patrolman escorting the President's car. Police said that the egg-thrower was a child, who quickly disappeared in the crowd.

During his Convention Hall speech, Mr. Truman criticized his opponent, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, for advising the special session of Congress "to hang around a week or so and then go home." The President added that Congress did just that, and refused to act on price control.

He dwelled at length on the GOP controlled Congress' refusal to grant him price control powers and said that a Dewey-Warren victory would weaken the nation in its fight for world peace.

File Action To Get Land

Right of Way For Airport Road Sought

Condemnation proceedings have been started in Common Pleas court against property owners in the area, east of the Mansfield airport, for the purpose of obtaining land for the new section of State Route 13.

The action, filed by the Richland county commissioners Tuesday, now permits the state highway department to award contracts on the date construction bids are opened, Oct. 26.

Originally, the condemnation proceedings were filed in Probate court. Assistant Prosecutor Robert L. Ross explained that in Probate court the issue in condemnation proceedings is whether there is a necessity of improvement, and that could delay the road.

He pointed out that in Common Pleas court the only issue that has to be decided is how much the property owners will receive. By filing the action, the county automatically gets the land for the road.

Named defendants in the action and the total allowed for compensation for land and damages to residue land, included:

C. Fred and George M. Brubach, $4,480; Raymond F. and Martha Estep, $1,300; Roy H. Ferguson, $1,800; Arthur and Nellie Krueger, $2,800; John G. Hoff, $2,500; W. M. and Treva Stewart, $250; Lillian Noser, $1,800; Jesse L. and Mabel Irene Baith, $250.

THIRD VICTIM DIES

EAST LIVERPOOL — (AP) — Charles M. Marcum, 30, of Lisbon, died yesterday in Crile Veterans' hospital in Cleveland, the third victim of a truck-automobile collision, May 22. He was the truck driver. A man and a woman in the car were the others killed.

Rites Set For Teacher's Father

Funeral services for Clem McNabb, 72, father of Ensil McNabb, teacher at Johny Appleseed junior high, will be held at Woods church near Newcastle at 2:30 p. m. Friday. Burial will be in the Danville cemetery. The body is now at Bowds funeral home in Walhonding.

Mr. McNabb died of a cerebral hemorhage at his home in Walhonding Tuesday.

In addition to his son, he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Della McNabb, and two daughters, Mrs. Aurell Lauderbaugh of Mt. Vernon and Mrs. Mayme Baldner of Loudonville.

Garage Reports Worthless Check

Police today investigated a report of a worthless $20 check, issued to the Franklin garage on Snyder street and drawn on the Mansfield Savings Trust National bank.

The complaint, police said, was filed by George Franklin, 79½ North Diamond street, garage owner. Franklin said the bank had reported no funds to cover the check.

SUPER SLEUTH

The proprietress of a boarding house was famous for the quality (if not the generosity) of her meals.

One breakfast, she stretched 4 portions of cereal to feed 8 After watching her star boarder eat his with great gusto, she smiled:

"And how did you find that delicious Grape-Nuts Wheat-Meal this morning, Mr. Jones?"

"Find it!" he expostulated. "Oh, I just pulled out a magnifying glass and there it was!"

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, October 8

OPPORTUNITY aspects are found to be uppermost in this day's astrological map. This promises widened scope, fresh openings, new fields of operation, with encouragement to exploit and expand along unusual lines. This with the connivance and substantial support of those in influential positions. Steady effort, determination and industry, with a long view the goal, is sure to find assistance for security and solid groundwork. The personality and cultural as well as social influence should reflect in final progress and reward. Charm, magnetism, entertainment, may be telling factors in success.

If It Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is, may work for long-range goals, with fundamental security, increased possessions and solid rewards for industry, intelligence and persistency, as well as talents out of the ordinary. While there may be disruption and difficulties on the way, substantial endeavors meet exceptional recognition in the long run. The purely personal aspect is to be capitalized, since magnetism, charm, and cultural qualities are accented and should be prudently exercised for the purpose of attainment of worthy ends.

A child born on this day is well endowed with those talents, skills and aspirations for a successful and happy life. Industry and diligence against obstruction find rewards, with the personality of legitimate charm and exploitation.

SON GRADUATES

Gerald A. Robfogel, the son of Theodore Robfogel, 50 Brickman street, has just graduated from the naval hospital school in San Diego, the navy announce today. Robfogel enlisted in the navy April 15, 1948.

Lutherans Open Convention

PHILADELPHIA— (U.P.) —Delegates from 34 states, Canada and several foreign countries have assembled here for the 16th biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church in America.

A holy communion service at the Lutheran church of the Holy Communion yesterday formally opened the nine-day sessions attended by 576 delegates representing 2,000,000 constituents.

The convention, meeting here in honor of the 200th anniversary of the Pennsylvania ministerium, oldest of its 32 synods, will admit the United Evangelical Lutheran church of Argentina and the Evangelical Lutheran church of Liberia as associate synods.

The Evangelical Lutheran church of Japan will be re-established as an associate synod.

Stockholders Meet

WILLARD—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pioneer Rubber company will be held tonight. Directors will be elected and important matters will be presented and discussed, according to notices sent to the stockholders.

PLANT WILL REOPEN

LORAIN—(AP)—The Brush Berllium plant will resume operations on a curtailed basis about Oct. 18, Plant Manager H. W. Schaffner announced today. The plant recently was hit by a $350,000 fire.

Senior High and Madison Play Road Games

Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

BACKERS of semi-pro football teams in the area hope to see a team installed in Mansfield next season . . . Ted Baker of the Bucyrus Green Hornets tells us that a league is in the formulative stage for 1949 operation. . . . He wants Mansfield in the circuit. . . . The biggest drawback here is the lack of a playing field. . . . Two possibilities might be Stadium field for day games or Madison field for night contests as Arlin field is not available to outside teams. . . . Massillon high school now has almost two first teams. . . . Chuck Mather, the new Tiger mentor, is using one group on offense and one on defense. . . . Fredericktown high school sure "likes" those football streaks. . . . Last week, Granville took the Freddies, 7 to 6, for their 11th straight defeat. . . . Back in 1941-42-43, Ollie Cline led the Freddies to 22 straight wins. . . . Teams from Mexico City, Texas and Hawaii have been trying to line up games with Ohio high school football teams. . . . However, the Ohio association frowns on games entailing travel of more than 600 miles. . . . Annual scholastic basketball officials clinic is scheduled Nov. 27 at Ohio State university.

★

PAUL SNYDER, the assistant Tyger football coach, had more than a passing interest in last Friday's game between Mt. Vernon and Grandview. . . . Two of his former grid pupils coach at the schools. . . . Dwight Bumpus, Mt. Vernon, played under Snyder at Mt. Vernon while Bill Doolittle, Grandview, was tutored at Senior high school. . . . Bumpus was little All-America at Missouri State Teachers college. . . . Doolittle won a pair of letters at Ohio State. . . . Both served in the Marines. And Bumpus was Bill's looey with the leathernecks. . . . Oh yes, the football game. . . . Mt. Vernon won, 26 to 6, ending a two-year Grandview win streak.

★

TWO MORE former Tygers are doing alright with North Carolina, one of the country's tougher collegiate outfits. . . . Don Hartig, the stubby 180 pounder, is playing his fourth year as blocking back. . . . Joe Romano, former All-Ohio end at Senior high, is playing offensive tackle and defensive end. . . . Joe tips the scales at 210 and is the only North Carolina man playing on the offensive and defensive teams. . . . Hartig clears the way for Choo Choo Justice. . . . Both starred when NC whomped Texas, 34 to 7.

Comes a call from Charlie Rowe, 33576. He has two Saturday series tickets he would like to trade for a pair Sunday.

Tygers Seek 3rd Straight Triumph at Portsmouth

Young men of football at Mansfield Senior high and Madison high face different receptions in road engagements tomorrow night.

Coach Augie Morningstar's Senior high Tygers embark on the suicide portion of their schedule at Portsmouth while the Rams of Coach Ennis Walker go after their 10th straight victory against weak Rittman. Both Mansfield teams won last year. The Bengals upset Portsmouth, 23 to 7, and Madison bopped Rittman, 25 to 7.

Morningstar plans to go along on the lineup which has won two of three games this season. However, several of the subs have been coming fast in practice and in game relief roles and will be much more in evidence tomorrow.

Hammerin' Harry Osbun, the leading leather lugger, in 1947 will still serve as understudy to A. C. Jenkins, another '47 regular. Osbun has been hampered by an old injury and isn't ready for top-flight action. He scored two of the Bengals' TD's against the Trojans last year.

GETS THIRD ONE

Lou Gregorio, who notched the third six-pointer, is again listed behind Little Tommy Tucker. Gregorio picked up 128 yards in eight carries last year, getting his TD on a 55-yard burst off tackle. Osbun had 120 yards in 16 tries.

Jack Bargahiser and Esker Jordan will see more duty as replacements for Bernie Weaver and Ken Carver. Bargahiser played quite a bit against Sandusky and caught one pass for 14 yards.

The Bengal injury shelf includes only George "Monk" Russell, the regular center. But Don Cline suffered a chipped tooth and painful lip in scrimmage this week and may see only partial action. He was used extensively on defense in the Bengals' 27-to-13 win over Sandusky. Russell is still in bed with that leg gash.

Morningstar, himself, is feeling better after a siege of the flu. Augie lost some weight but after seeing his squad go through three scrimmages feels that the lads may play their "game of year" against Portsmouth. Morningstar was head Trojan grid coach in 1946.

The entire Tyger varsity squad of 35 players will leave at 8 a. m. tomorrow by bus and private car. They will dine in Circleville and then "hole up" in a Chillicothe hotel for an afternoon nap. After the game they will return to Chillicothe and leave early Saturday to see the Ohio State-Iowa game in Columbus.

SHUFFLING ACES

Walker is still shuffling his backfield aces trying to reach a happy medium of speed and power. With stocky Tommy Morris coming fast at full, Big Fred Durig is getting a crack at tailback. Durig is one of the most powerful as well as speediest Ram balltoters.

Morris missed the Orrville clash but will see service tomorrow as defensive line backer as well as spelling Durig at full. Ed Chelski and Larry Secrist will continue their alternating at quarter and tailback.

Some line changes are also being effected by Bill Kopcial, the forward-wall boss. He plans to use Pedro Pryor at guard, moving Norman Hughes to end in place of Ed Locke on defense. Melvin Grimm, a 220-pound six-footer, also is listed for plenty of work.

Grimm, a senior, has played only a few moments this year but has been learning fast. Kopcial's defensive line will check in at better than 175 pounds per man, even with the 135-pound Hughes in there. That gives Madison one of the area's biggest lines.

WALKER THROWS

Still trying to improve the Rams' weak passing attack, Walker had Chelski and Secrist throwing them long and often yesterday. On pass defense, Walker went with the scrubs and tossed passes at the varsity. The Madison coach was some shakes as a passer at Bowling Green the past two seasons.

The Rams will leave by bus at 5 p. m. Friday. They went through a rugged 30-minute scrimmage last night.

★

In Friday's Northern Ohio league warfare, Shelby plays Bucyrus, Upper Sandusky goes to Crestline, Norwalk is at Galion and Willard at Bellevue. Bucyrus and Crestline share the league lead with two wins apiece.

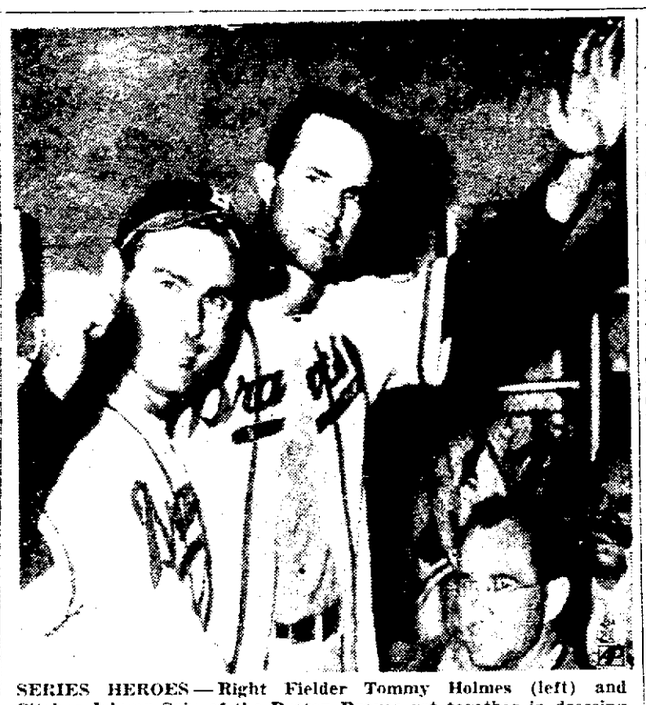
★

Elsewhere in the area Friday: Centerburg at Bellville; Danville at Loudonville; Cardington at Mt. Gilead; Perrysville at Howard (six man) and Columbus Bexley at Mt. Vernon. Saturday New London plays at Plymouth.

Bucyrus, Bellville, Loudonville and Mt. Vernon are on top of the area heap with three straight wins. Madison and Crestline are undefeated in two starts.

Expect Anything

CLEVELAND—(INS)—When the Cleveland Browns meet the Brooklyn Dodgers in Cleveland Sunday night or on the night of the last World Series game played in the sixth city if a game is postponed, they will be expecting anything.



SERIES HEROES—Right Fielder Tommy Holmes (left) and Pitcher Johnny Sain of the Boston Braves get together in dressing room after they combined to beat Cleveland, 1-0, in opening game of World series at Boston. Holmes drove in winning run; Sain set Indians down with four hits. (AP Wirephoto)

John Simpson Football Team Defeats Ram Reserves, 12-6

By TOM M'CULLOCH

Scoring the first time they got their hands on the ball, the John Simpson Bulldogs won a close 12-to-6 victory over the Madison reserves at Arlin field last night.

It was the second triumph in three games for Coach Bob Kennedy's crew and marked the first start of the season for the junior Rams. Madison plays Shelby at Ram field this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Bulldogs took a page from the book of the Mansfield Tygers to notch that first touchdown. Bob Matthews was on the receiving end of a kickoff reverse and he outran the surprised Rams for 70 yards and a score. Bill Semenoff shook loose off-tackle for the second Simpson score in the second quarter.

Unable to gain through the Bulldog line, Madison took to the air with lanky freshman Jerry Tallentire on the throwing end of most of the passes. The Rams tried 17 aerials and Tallentire, playing in his first football game, completed five for 95 yards.

On the last play of the game Tallentire threw 20 yards to Left End Fox for the Ram tally.

Iberia Baseball Team Wins, 9-6

IBERIA — Coach Dan Baker's Iberia Presidents evened the count by taking over Coach Dan Sutter's Lexington baseball nine at the Iberia athletic field Tuesday afternoon, 9 to 6.

Iberia staged a five-run rally in the fourth inning and Tom Wilcox clouted a homer in the fifth. Wilcox, Iberia hurler, struck out eight batters.

Mitsch's Pin Team Waxes Hot

Although buried in a five-way deadlock for fourth place in the City A league, Mitsch's Corner Store bowlers put on the season's top display of pin blasting last night at the Colony lanes.

Three of the team members piled over the 600 mark to help the quintet to a big 941-1080-986—3,007 tally. Harold Selby, rolling the No. 2 spot, was the big wheel with 194-234-209—637 while Orlie Grable had 190-221-205—616 and Carl Englehorn 187-219-198—604.

Bringing up the rest of the total were Frank Burton with 593 and Carl Phillipon 557.

League-leading Ace Cabs took three straight from Dr. Pepper to maintain its two-game bulge in the standings. Gene Funston paced the Cabmen with 192-201-192—583 while Ed Henrich had 199-216-168—483.

Eagles defeated Max Diner in the other three-game sweep.

John Bernat, "36" Bar, was the only other "A" loop bowler to make the honor roll. He had 189-170-245—604. Joe DeYarman, Deschner's Cabinet, had a 283. Bud Traxler had a 234 for Ideal Billiards.

★

One other Colony bowler shaded 600. Fritz Schnittke had a 190-208-203—601 in the Westinghouse "A" league. E. Lucas trailed with 147-148-256—551 and Paul Jesson notched 200-196-156—542. Ray Workman was fourth with 243-165-132—540.

Lucas missed the No. 4 pin in the seventh frame of his final game and the No. 5 pin in the 10th.

★

The Isaly league ended in its usual manner with Gene Leudy on top with a 169-192-204—563. Dapper had 167-167-198—532 and Bud Houston, 163-144-211—518.

★

Scoring in the 12-team Victory league at the Colony featured Ken (Rome Interiors) Carlisle's 167-167-214—548. Jim Elliott, Ideal Electric, had 177-167-189—533 and Lewis Beamer, IOOF, 151-204-154—509.

★

Reba Siler was tops in the Richland Ladies league. Rolling for an unsponsored team, Reba put together games of 174, 198 and 147 for a 519 total. Her team won three straight from Ringside and turned in the night's best total, 2,178.

G. Rhoads, Fairview Bar, was second with 155-147-194—496. Kay Stirtzinger, Kay's Shoppe, had 146-171-164—481.

★

Also at Richland, Tom Tipul pieced together games of 197, 167 and 150 for a 514 in the St. Peter's alumni league. G. Dillon had a 509.

★

Sis DeWeese's 189-100-154—443 was tops in the Dominion Electric circuit. Radena Lee had a 415.

"Dirt, smudges, fingerprints wash right off!"

"Nothing like walls painted with SHERWIN-WILLIAMS SEMI-LUSTRE WALL FINISH!"

Wonderful...greatest paint yet...for kitchens, bathrooms, nursery, and wherever walls must take hard wear! Sherwin-Williams Semi-Lustre dries to a hard, satin-smooth finish that dirt just can't get a toehold on. Whenever splashes, stains or spots occur, simple soap and water remove the soil ...restore the surface to its original beauty.

You get the grand combination of rich beauty, durability and economy! Semi-Lustre's cheerful, handsome colors are decorator-blended...designed to suit your newest schemes. Its surface, satin-smooth yet tough, gives you happy years of wear. And this is one paint that stretches...it gives grand coverage. Save money! Earn compliments! Paint with Sherwin-Williams SEMI-LUSTRE Wall Finish!

$5.25 Gal.

So easy to clean with soap and water!

GREASE! With most paints, cooking grease and grime penetrate the surface. Not with Semi-Lustre! Plain soap and water take grime right off!

FINGER MARKS! No need for excitement when the youngster's grimy hands smear the wall. Ordinary soap and water restore Semi-Lustre's freshness.

INK! Ordinary paints are permanently discolored wherever ink touches. Tests prove that Semi-Lustre is easily washed spotlessly clean.

PENCIL MARKS! Let the small fry doodle to their heart's content! They don't harm a wall painted with Semi-Lustre. Soap and water clean it easily!
